MARSEILLE

GARY DeVito

Gary,
even though I got to know you through Reis (ugh!) I'm glad I got to know you anyway. Hope next year we'll still make our daily trip to MacDonald's. See ya' soon,
Vikki

Gary,
We mustn't tell Ann-Marie what we've been up to - (giggle, giggle).
Hope you have a nice summer - You're a real doll
Love
Linda

Gary,
Even though we have had Eights (good times, bad times, bad times, and so on and so on) but no matter How you Look, we'll stay friends I Hope
Dave

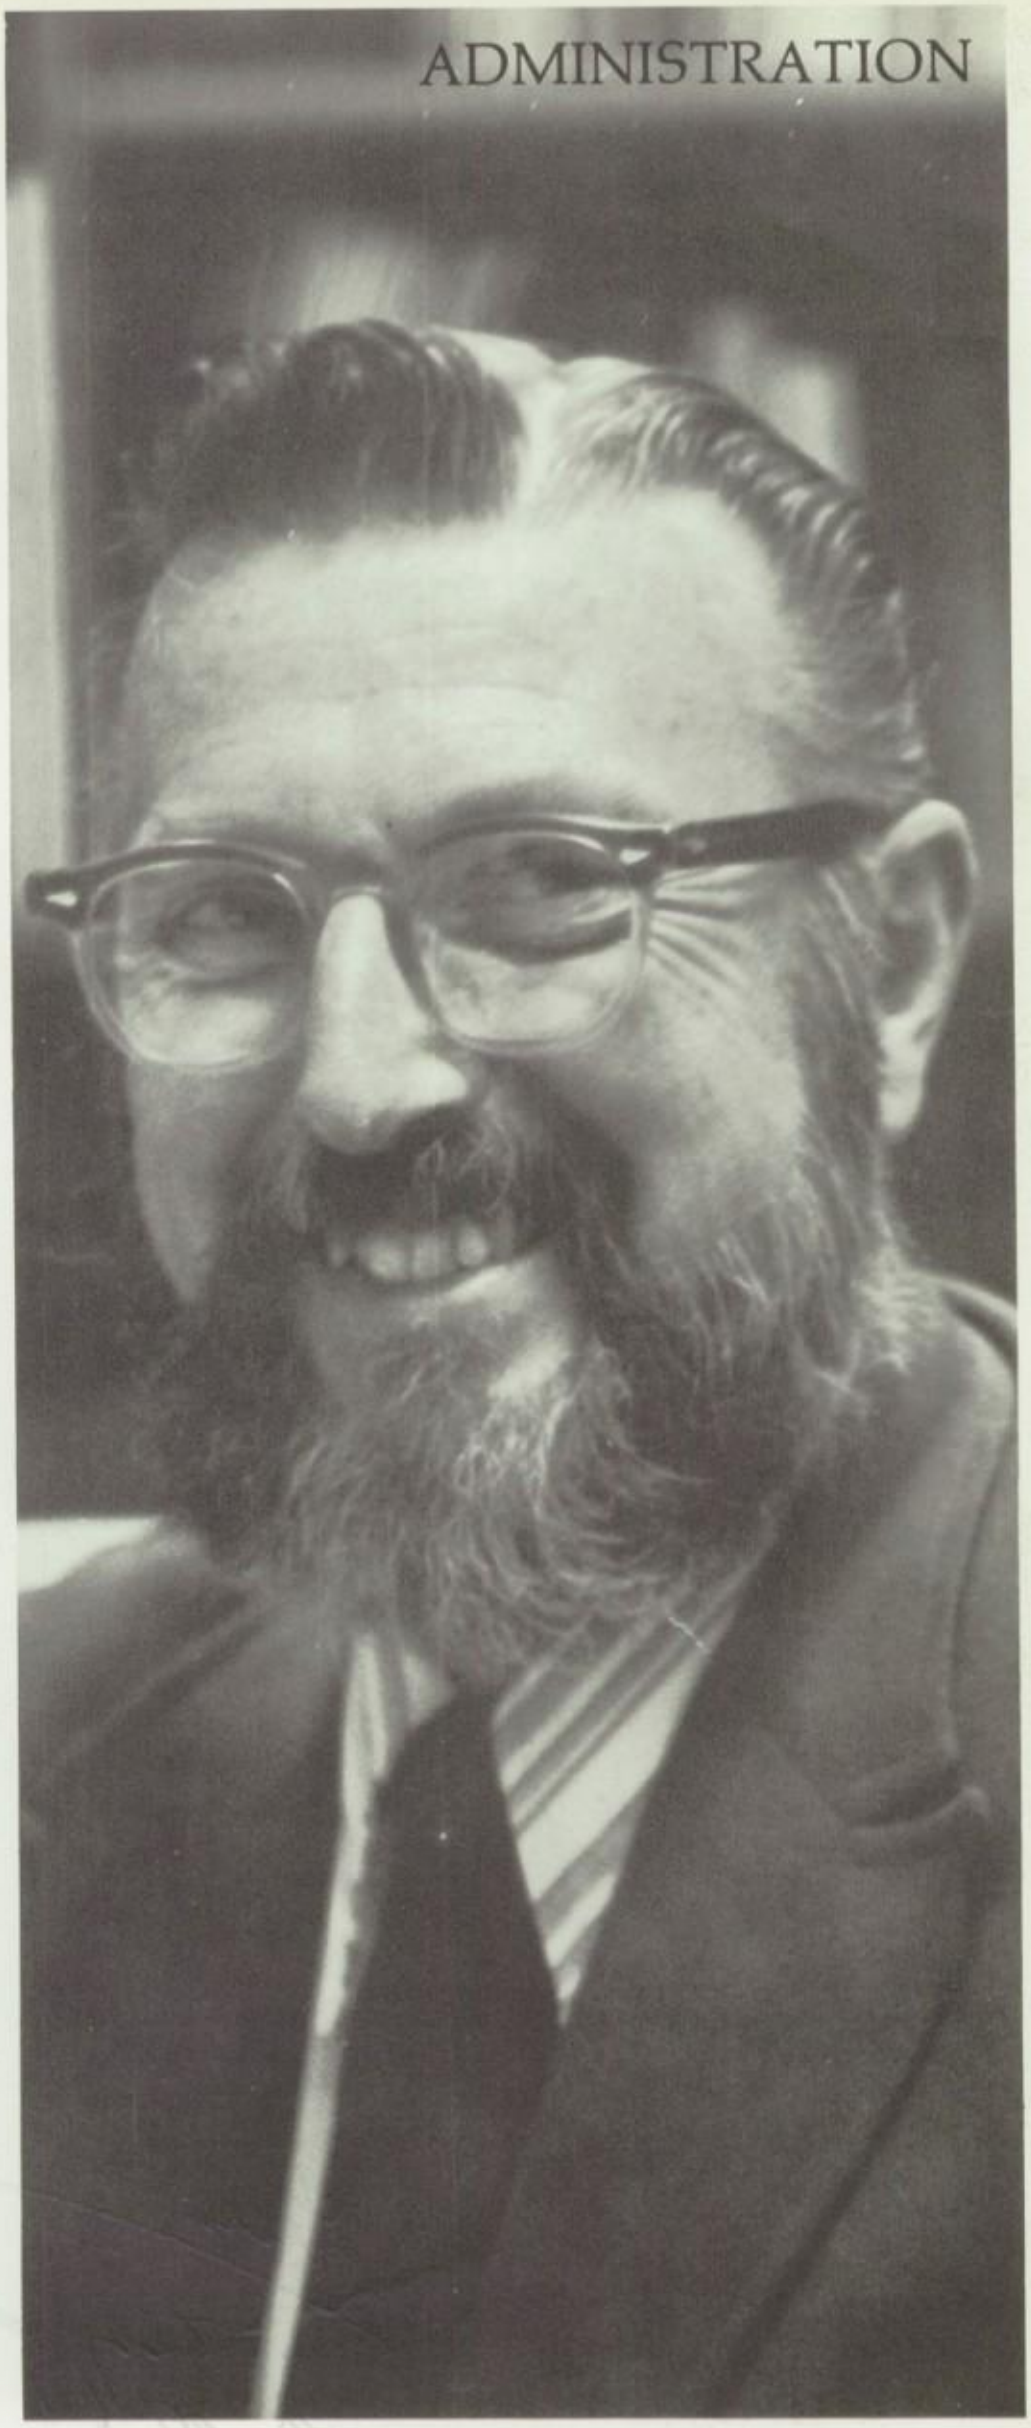
Thomas E. Fitzgerald

Robert W. Williams
Principal

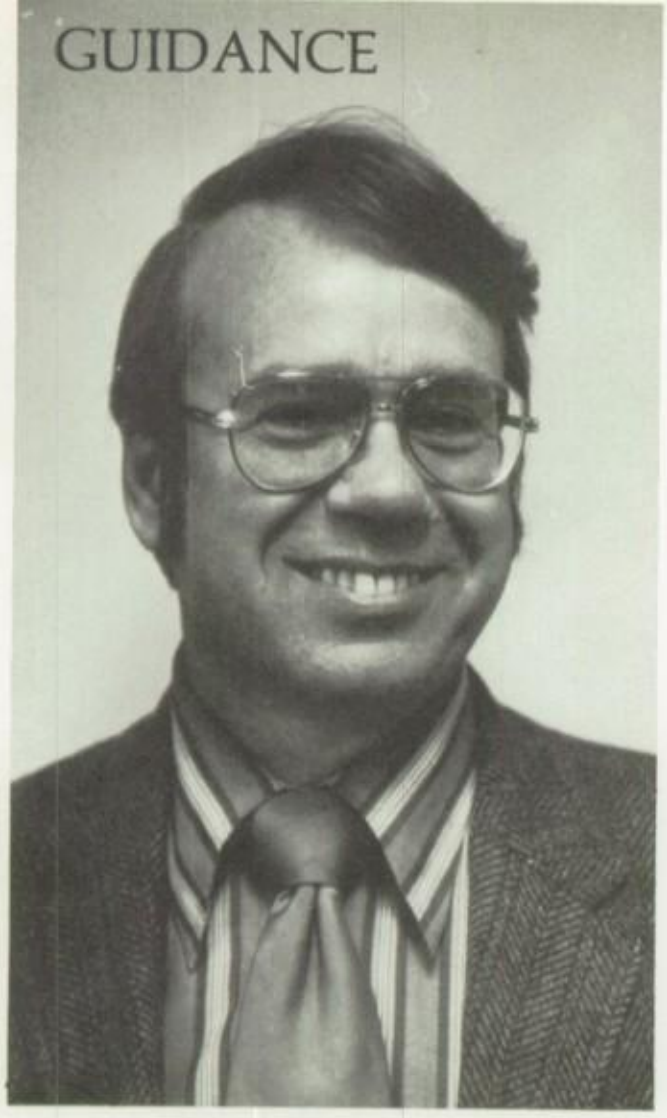
ven though Mr. Williams has many important duties as school principal, which eep him busy, he still finds time to support the students' various activities. We elieve that this constitutes the difference between a mediocre principal and a good ne.



Donald W. Feener
Assistant Principal

Being the Vice Principal of a growing student body is a great responsibility. He is the chief disciplinarian and lets the students know it by cheerfully beginning each morning with these words: "Will the following people please report to the conference room in the administration building . . . "

GUIDANCE



Charles Higgins
Guidance Department Chairman
Haven't you ever wondered why Mr. Higgins' office is right next door to Mr. Feener's instead of down the hall with the other guidance counselors' offices?

Gary -
The big
Year is ahead
I'm sure that it will be a good
" Put Your best foot forward "
and Hi

Joan McQueen
Miss McQueen is known for her informative conferenc in which her students get the full benefit of her know edge.

Irving Mahl
Mr. Mahl provides students with an assortment of jobs, and has his own personal advertisement on his license plate.

Gary
Stay on the Ball !! Best ?
Look in your Locker for Lots of fun.
Sincerely
Irv Mahl

Lindsay Bates
Student: "I'd like to see Mr. Bates."
Guidance Secretary: "So would the rest of us."

Claire Ward
Always there when you need her, Miss Ward is prepare to do whatever she can to help her students.

Judy Linstra

Always has a smile and a helping hand for those students who enter her domain.

Margaret Hinkley

Student—"I'd like to make an appointment with my guidance counselor."
Mrs. Hinkley—"When are you free?"
Student—"Well, I'm free 1 & 2 on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, 5 & 6 on Tuesdays, and 13th on Thursdays."
Mrs. Hinkley—"Sorry, she's booked solid until January. How about next term?"

Dorothy Hund

Officially known as one of the guidance secretaries, Mrs. Hund is also known to students by her alias—"the Stamp Lady."

Hester Posner

Known as queen of the switchboard operators, Mrs. Posner can be heard saying "Good morning, John Jay" during almost any time of the day.

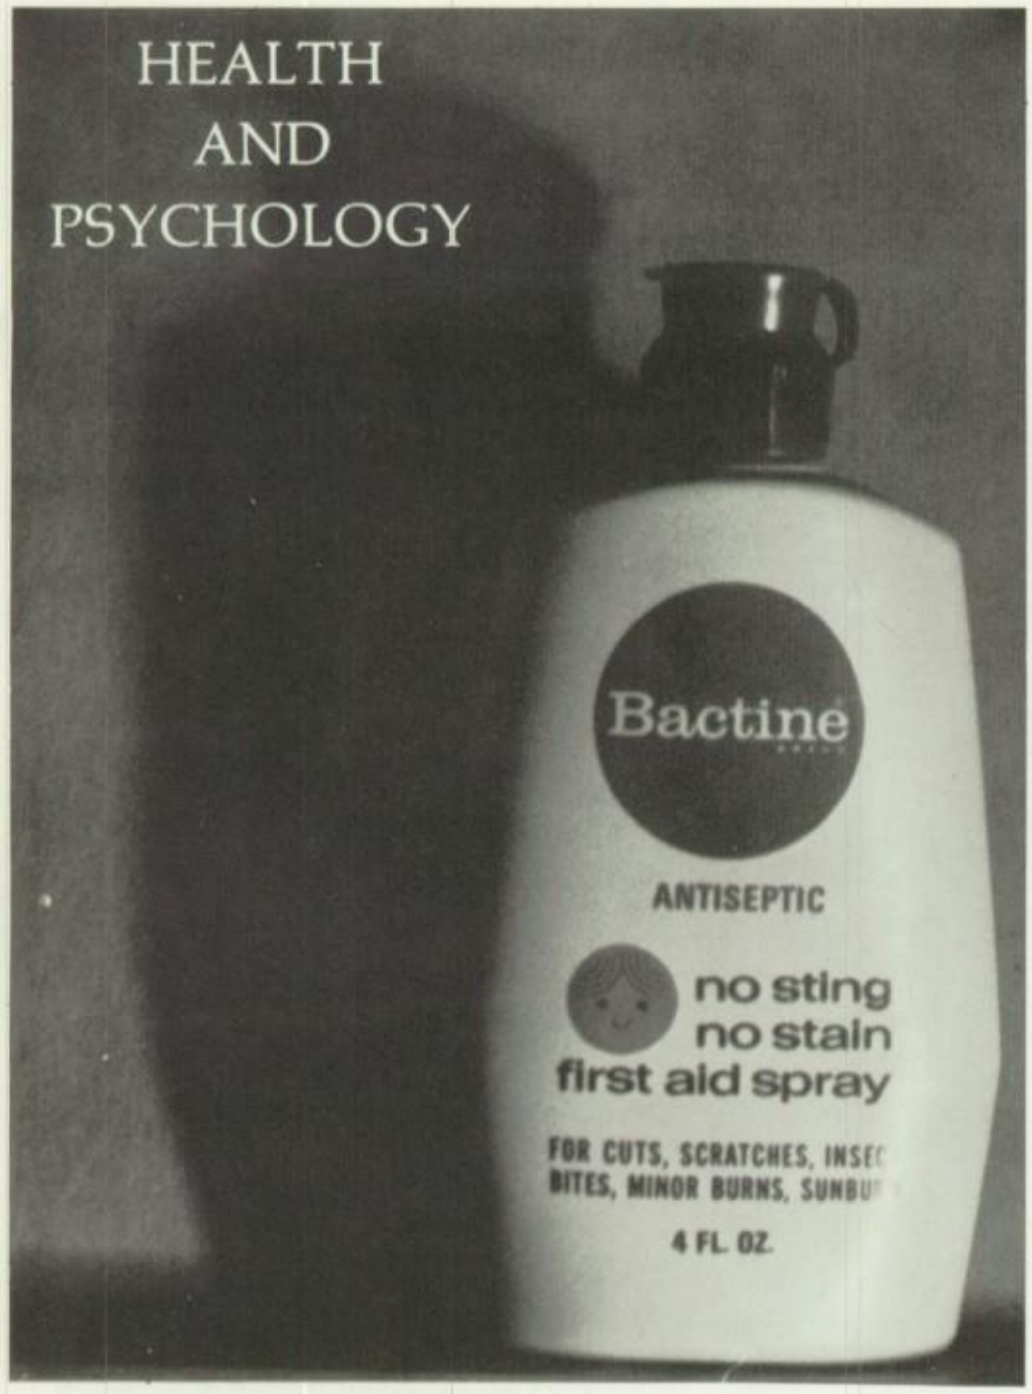
Carol Smith

Our own airline stewardess, Mrs. Smith sensuously announces such routine things as bus route changes, early team dismissals and activities' cancellations which, if said by anyone else, would have otherwise been ignored.

Agnes Yarish

After signing in late the student starts to leave, only to be called back by an authoritative voice saying, " ... and why were you late?"

HEALTH AND PSYCHOLOGY

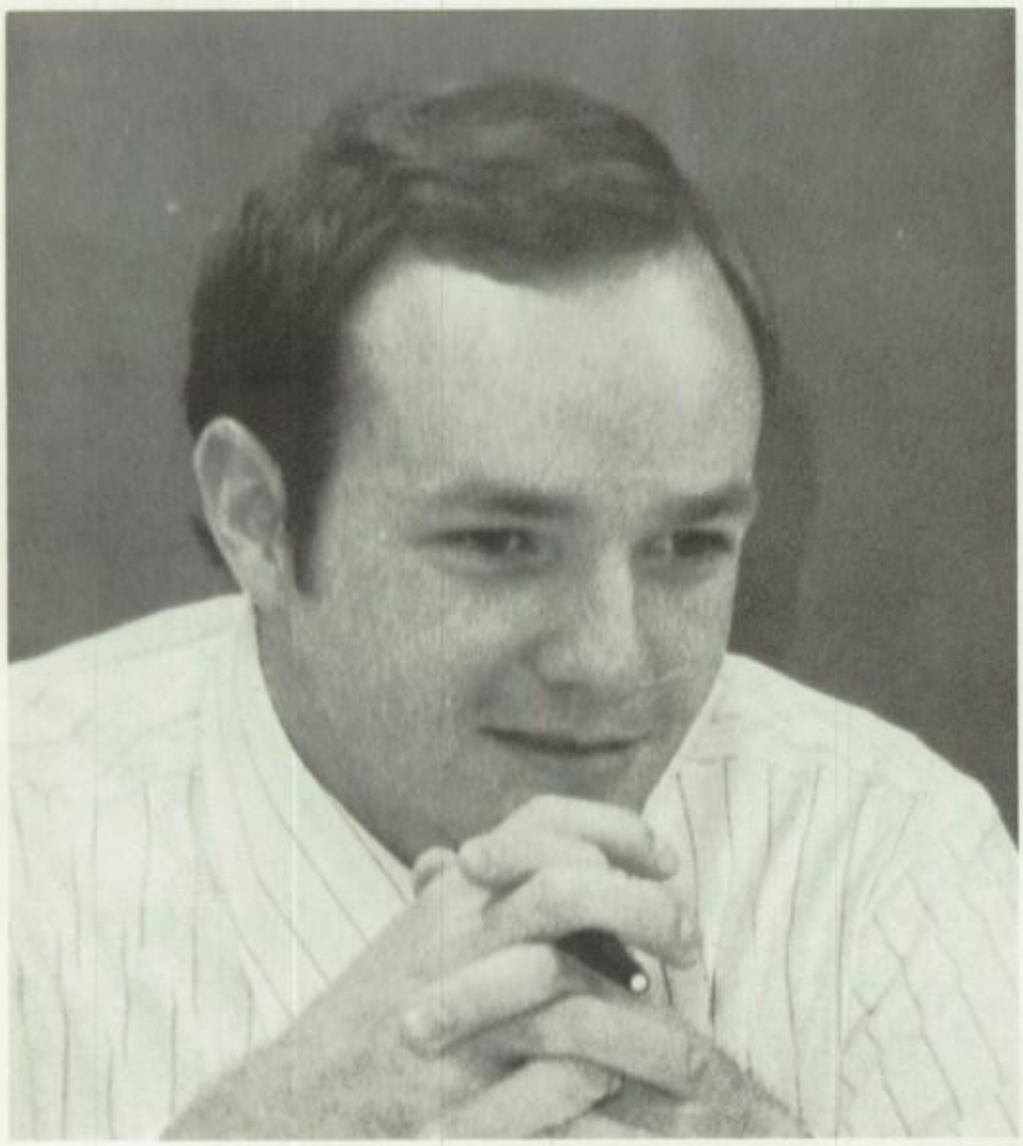


Alan Pfefferbaum

Student #1: "I'd hate to see the day when I got a pass to go see Mr. Pfefferbaum!"
Student #2: "Don't worry, you won't. They'd never be able to fit his name on it, much less spell it right!"

Ralph Linstra

Using Freud as a reference, Mr. Linstra psychologically directs his Health classes, bringing them safely through topics on sex, drugs, smoking, cancer, and first aid.



William Smith, M.D.

Dr. Smith, our faithful physician, returns every fall to examine the students of John Jay, making sure that we are all healthy and have caught no exotic diseases over summer vacation.

Audrey Cummerford

'm sorry, but this book was an overnight book, and you were ld." It is Mrs. Cummerford's hallowed duty to preserve the hn Jay library for future generations, and she performs that uty with inspired patience and fidelity.

Morene Martin

Mrs. Martin is the guardian of the mysterious Back Rooms which house a fascinating collection that includes anything from Rembrandt slides to ancient yearbooks. It is good to get on the right side of her, if only in order to gain access to this treasure trove!

Joseph Fletcher
Humanities Department Chairman

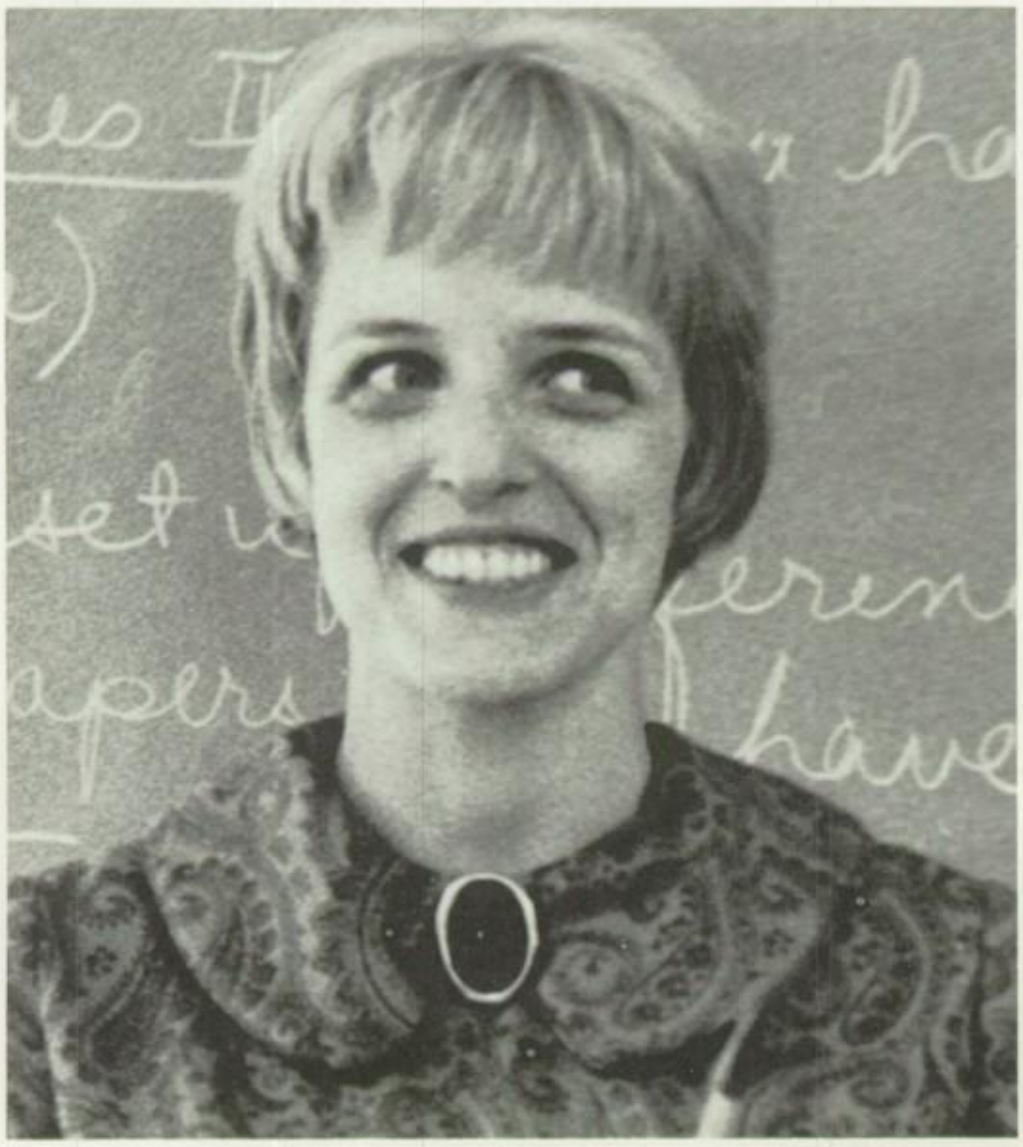
Known more by his voice than by his appearance, Mr. Fletcher announces home football games, negotiates for the district office, and in his spare time he coordinates the Humanities Department.

Neal Adams
Social Studies

"Neal" is the proud father of an 18 month old son and a collection of four ties dating from 1952. His middle name is the same as one of our great presidents, two cities, and a doctrine.

Carol Austin
English

When she is not teaching English, Miss Austin is John Jay's very own sheriff, keeping law and order in the K-study corral.



Uwe Bagnato
Social Studies

"Doesn't anyone want to disagree with me?" When Mr. Bagnato begins to lose his charm during a class, he simply says, "Today I ... ah ... brought my slides of the Philippines ... and ... um ... this is my wife sharing a coconut with a native."

Richard Curry
English

ohn Jay's own absent minded professor. He has been nown, on occasion, to run a projector without film. ut all was not lost! At least the sound was off!

James Harris
English

Mr. Harris, one of John Jay's best dressed teachers, adds a touch of style, along with his Southern personality, to his English classes.

Armando Henriquez
Humanities Department Co-Chairman
English

A very enthusiastic teacher, "Mickey" communicates with his students in any way possible, using records, L.G.I.'s, plays in "Fun" City, and various other methods which he feels will make English more interesting.

James Marshall
English

Mr. Marshall may seem to be a mild-mannered English teacher by day, but after school he can be found entertaining the dinner crowds with his songs and guitar.

Margaret Montgomery
English

Known for her arduous work on students' journals, term papers, and Reflections, Miss Montgomery boldly steps forward in her attempt to improve John Jay's literary skills.

Barbara Nichols
English

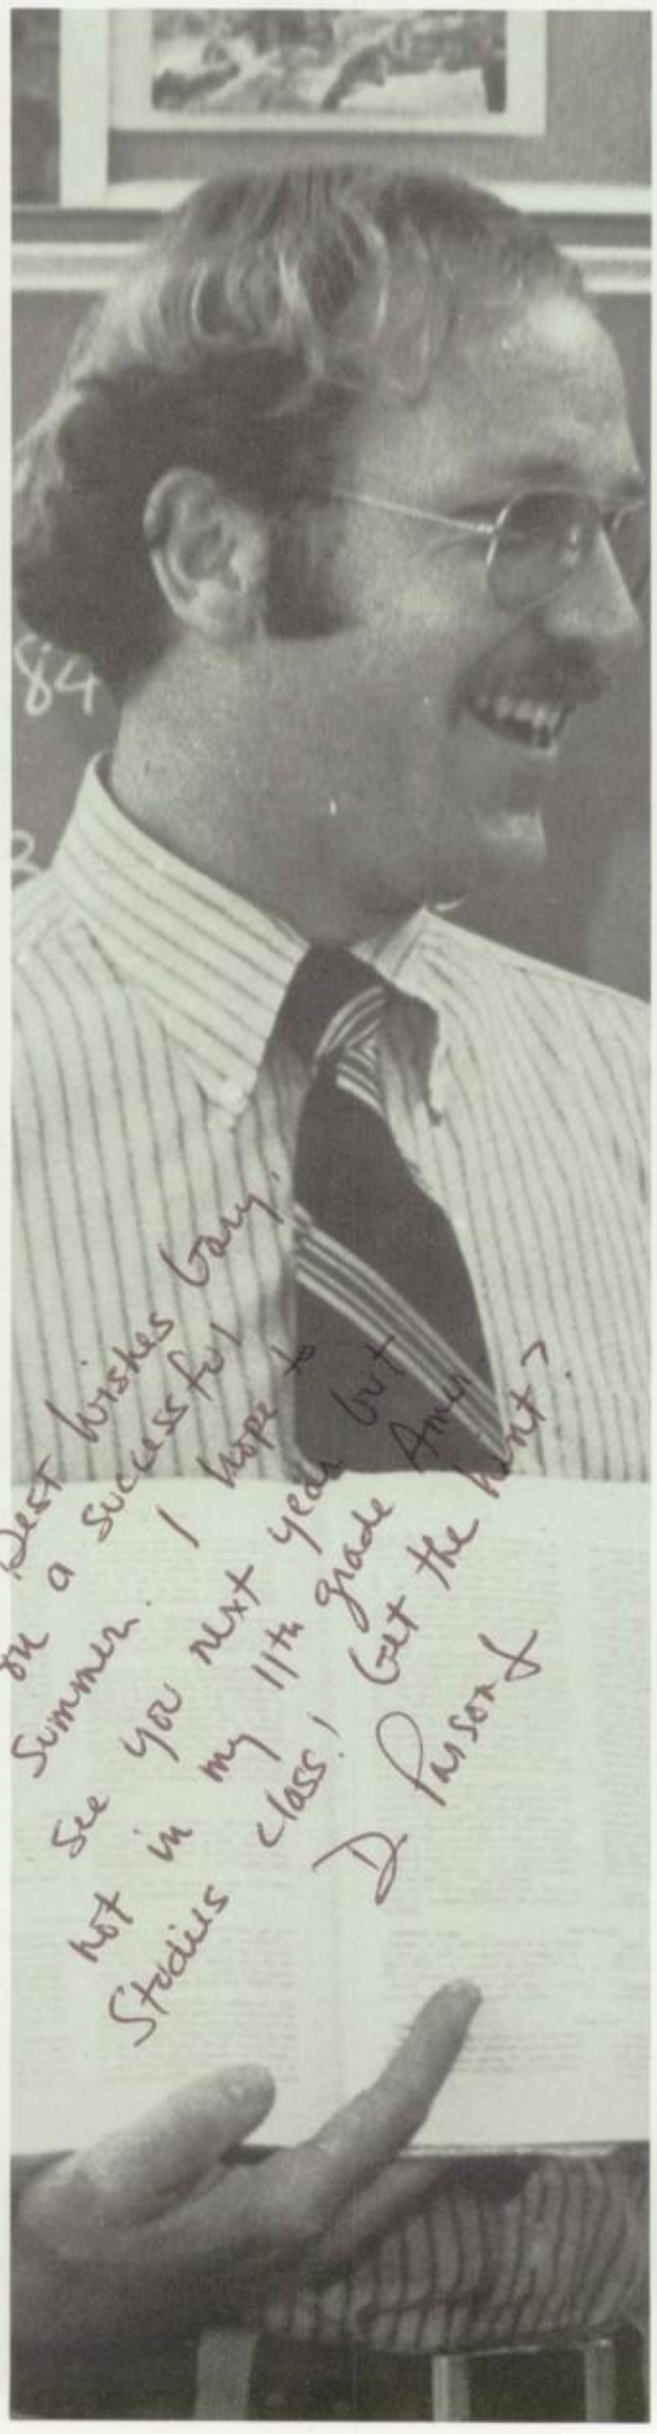
Mrs. Nichols quietly and patiently teaches her seni students the art of reading and writing, hoping that th will remember enough of it to get them safely throu college.

John Noble
English

(Speaking of the habits of the Dobu tribe near New Zealand) " ... which reminds me of that time when I was 14 ... "

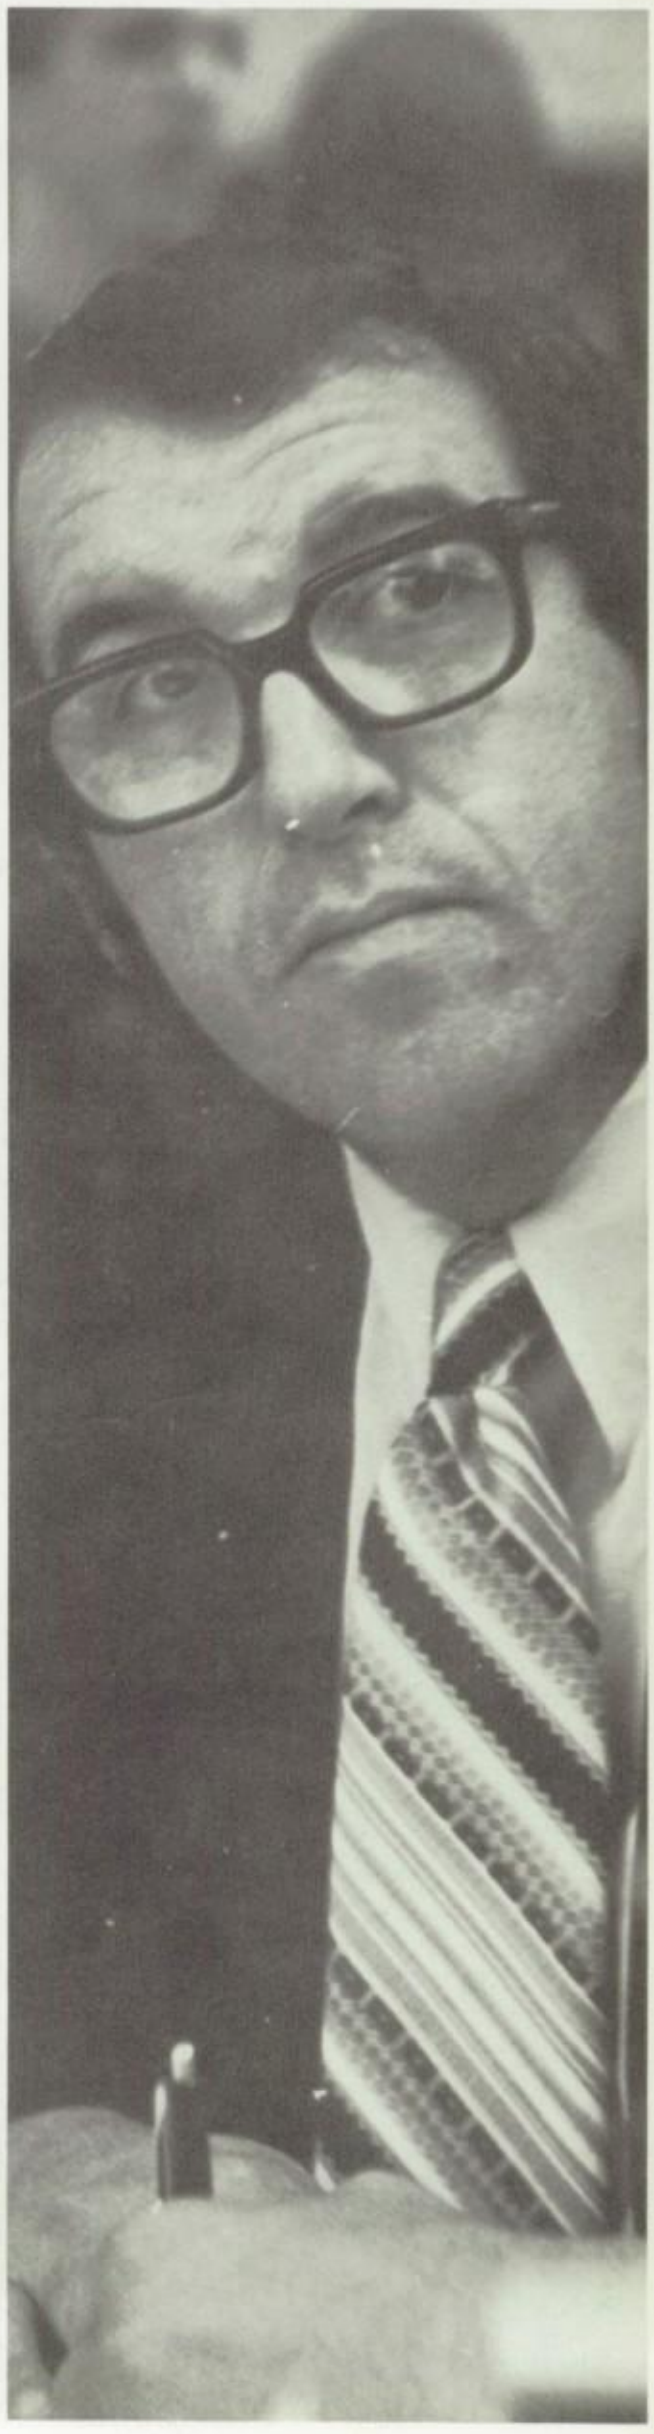
Richard Parsons
Social Studies

Mr. Parsons is back once again teaching American Studies at John Jay with a new flair which makes him a favorite among his students.



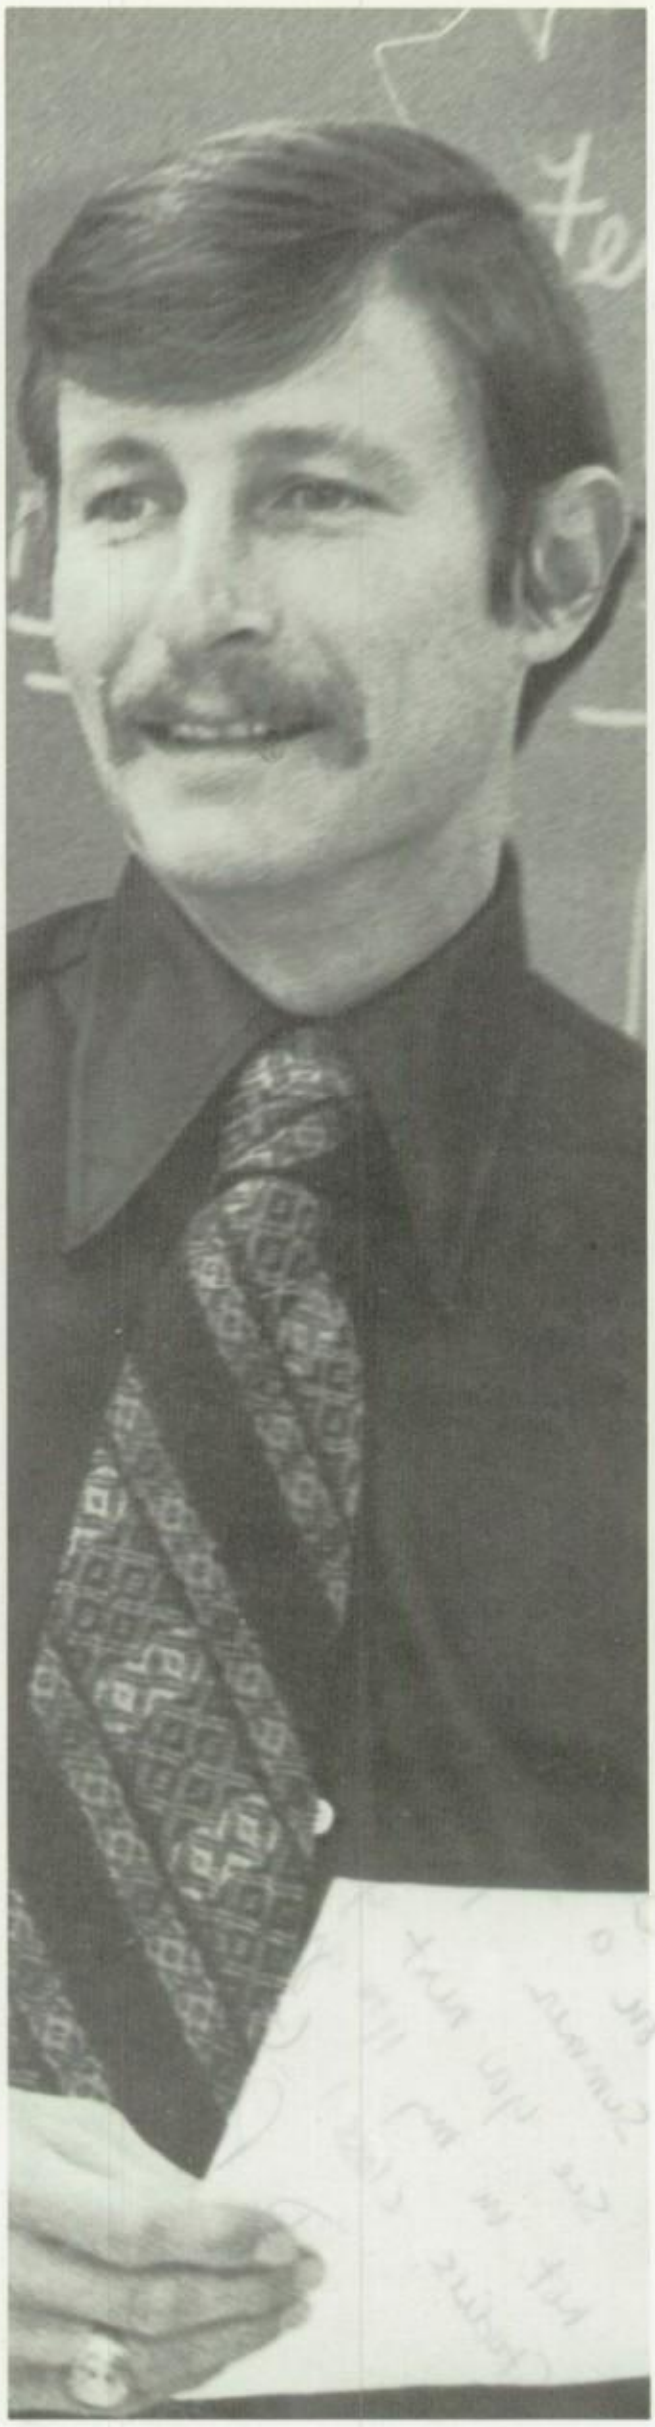
Louis Pesce
Social Studies

Mr. Pesce entrances his students with gory stories from Europe's past, confuses them with his notes, and astounds them with his 100 volume readings.



Ruth Velsor
English

Entertaining English students with the adventures of her domestic pet, Miss Velsor does everything in her power to make the course interesting.



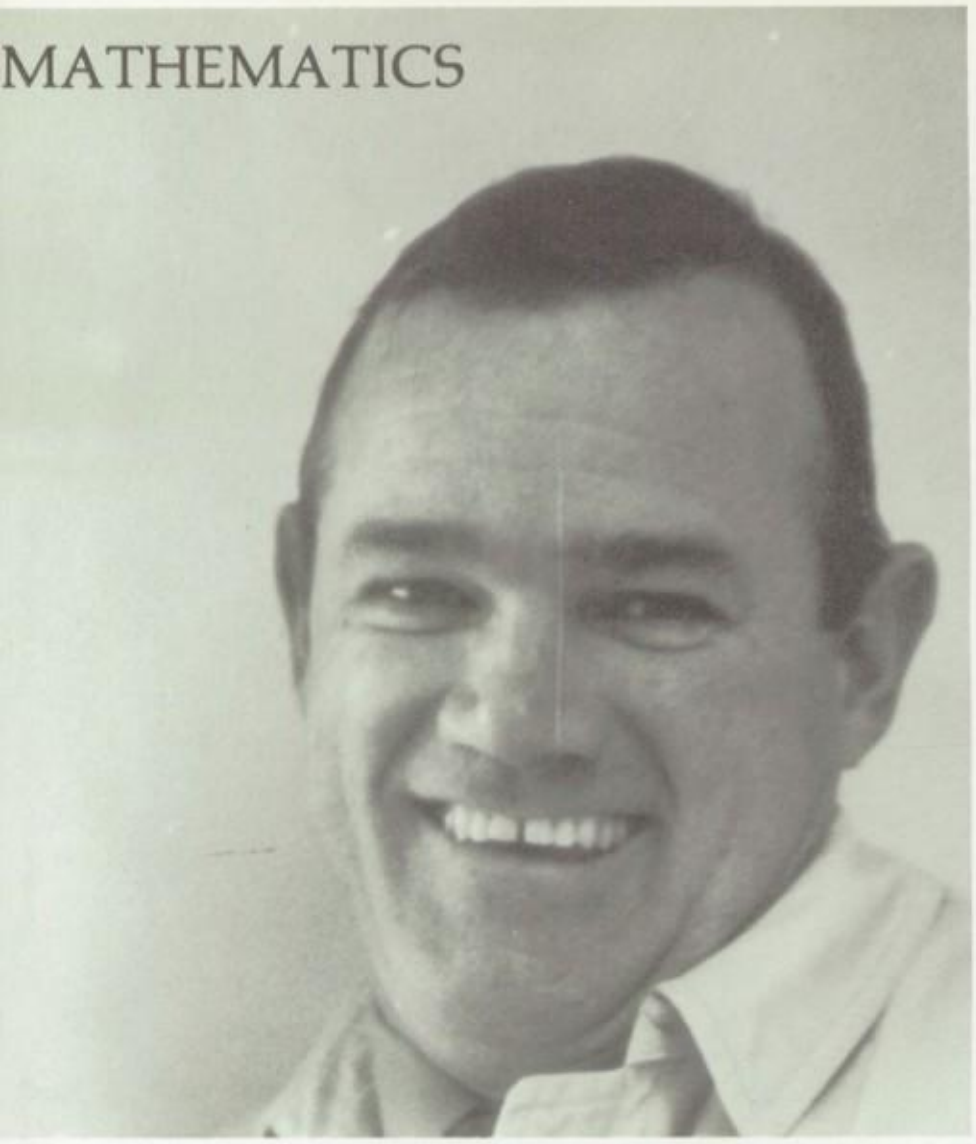
Donald Wilks
Social Studies

Mr. Wilks: "Okay, who's going to take national news this week? Nobody, Huh? How about world news? Nobody, Huh? What about local news? Nobody, Huh? Well ... I could take national ... And it wouldn't be much trouble to take local ... And I guess I could take world news ... I love an enthusiastic class!"

John Wirchansky
Humanities Department Co-Chairman
Social Studies

"Wirch" commonly starts the year with threats like "one cut and you're out!" Harsh as this may sound, Mr. Wirchansky is actually a gentle man, usually found hiding in his office in the furnace room of K-study or enthusiastically cooking up a storm of delicacies in the Home-Ec room.

MATHEMATICS



John Murphy
Math Department Chairman

r. Murphy is a favorite with his students because of his sense of humor and the ique way in which he conducts his classes.

Robert Butterfield

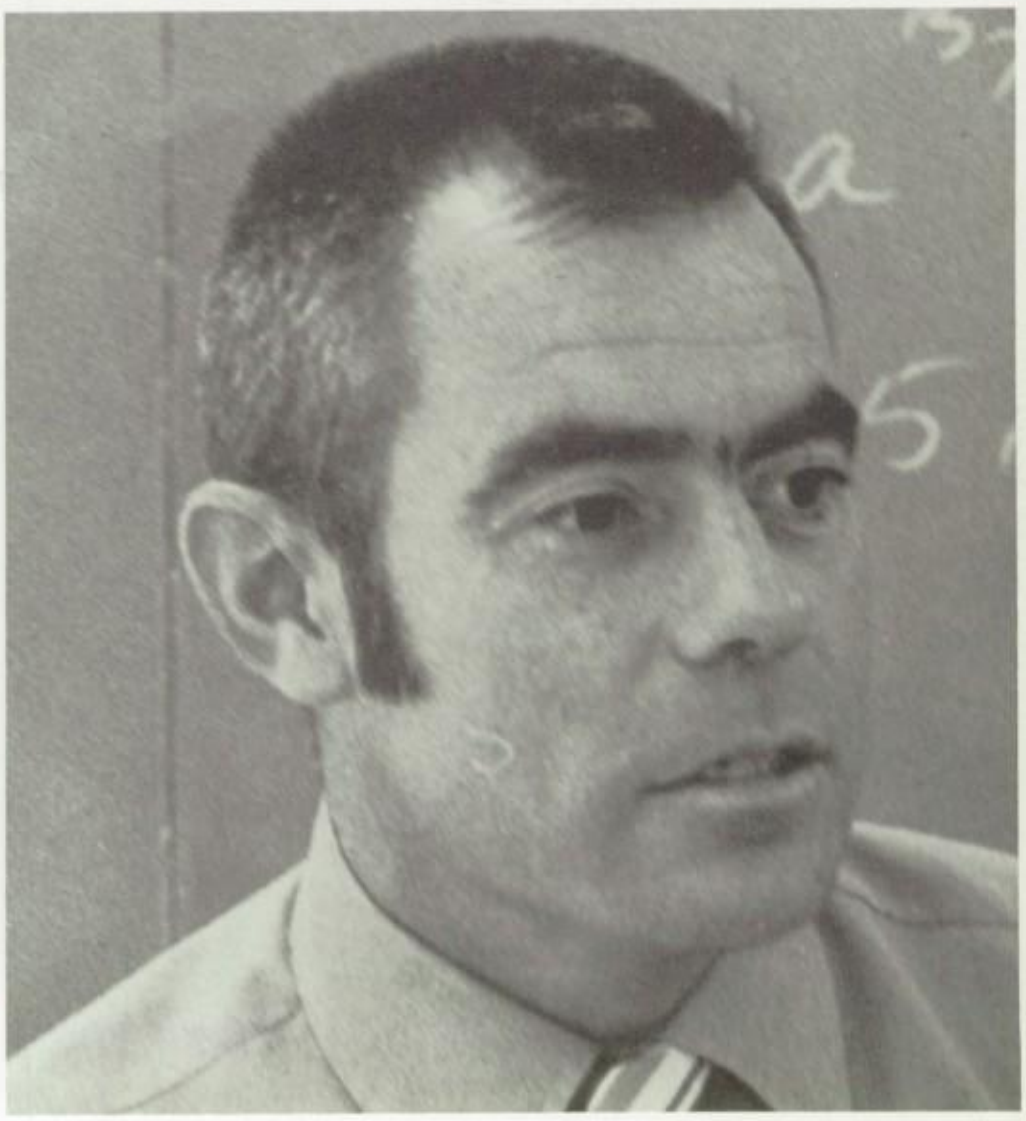
Truly an original teacher, Mr. Butterfield has a hang-up with fingers, especially thumbs. Methods of teaching include thumbs up or down for true/false questions, and learning how to tell the difference between a compass and a ruler in his geometry class. Pet phrase: "What da ya got?"

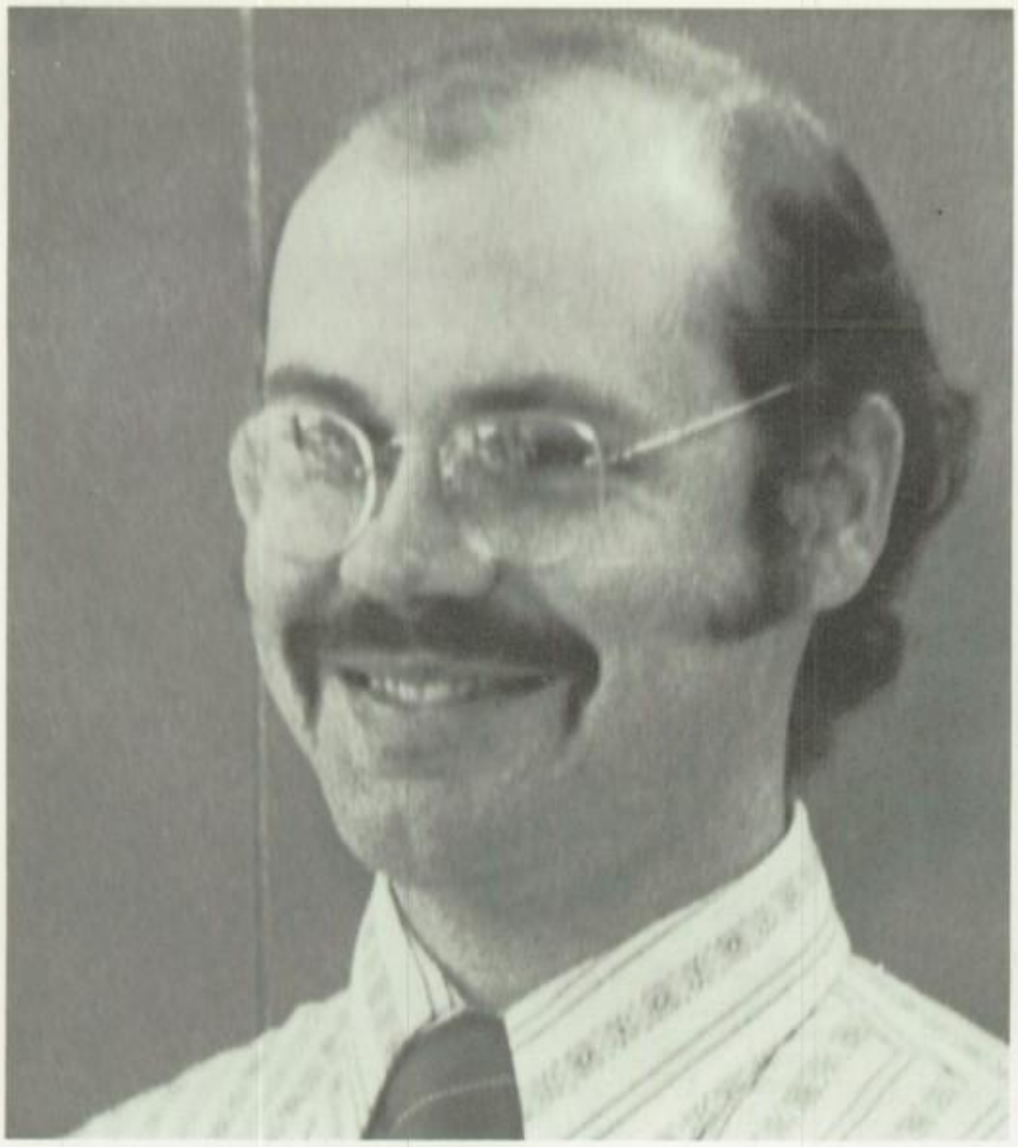
Francis Fleischer

randishing a pair of high power lenses and a dynamic wit, enter Mr. Fleischer. e always has that look of tomorrow in him that is rarely seen in a quaint math acher. View that trim look up top and the streamlined suits, not to mention an f-center belt or two. Two and a half cheers for our man in A-building.

Arthur Goudey

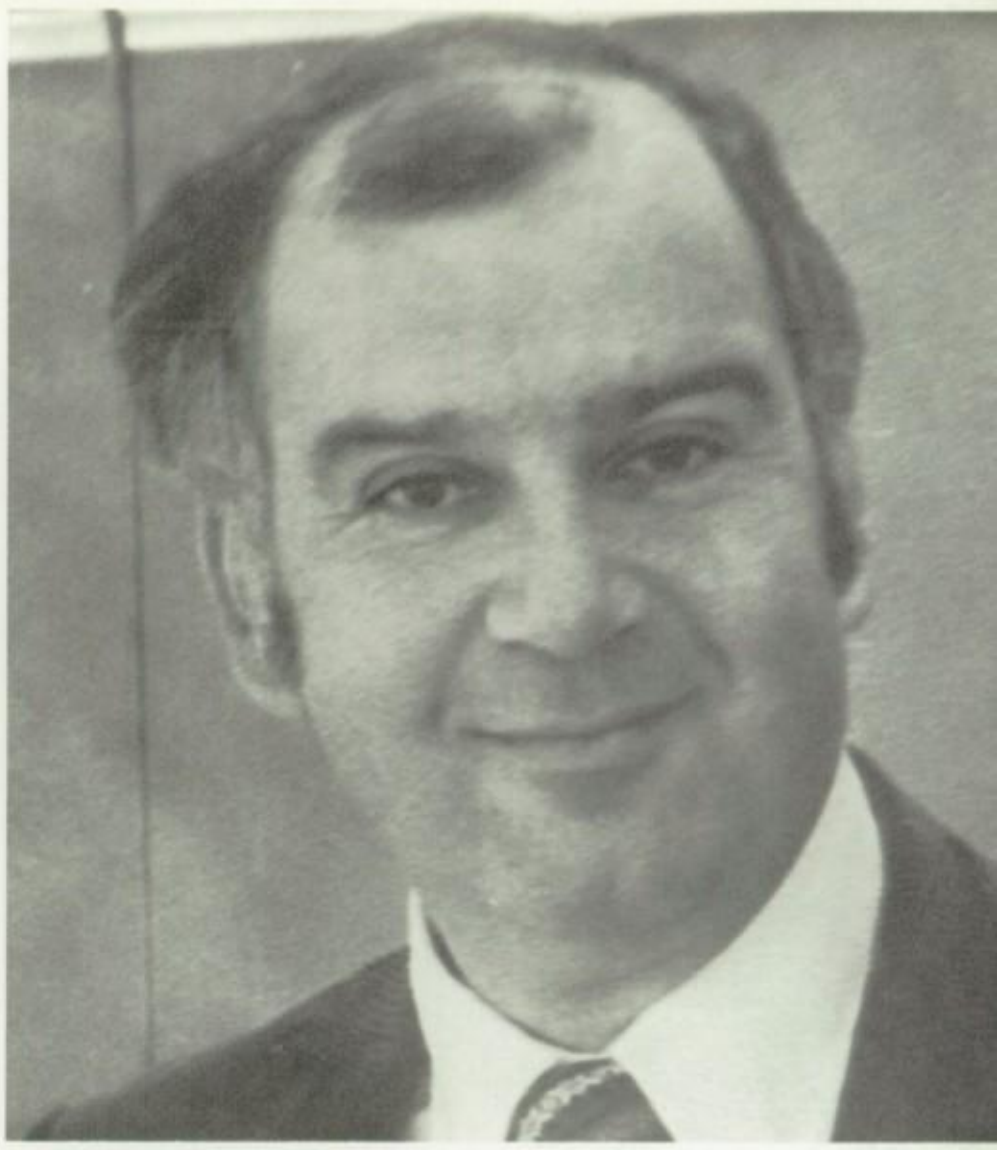
Mr. Goudey livens up his classes with many practical examples: "Now, if the town drunk walked in ... Take the trolly to the Fifth Division ... If you were looking for a veeble-fetzer and didn't know what it was, well then, you wouldn't know what you were looking for, would you?"





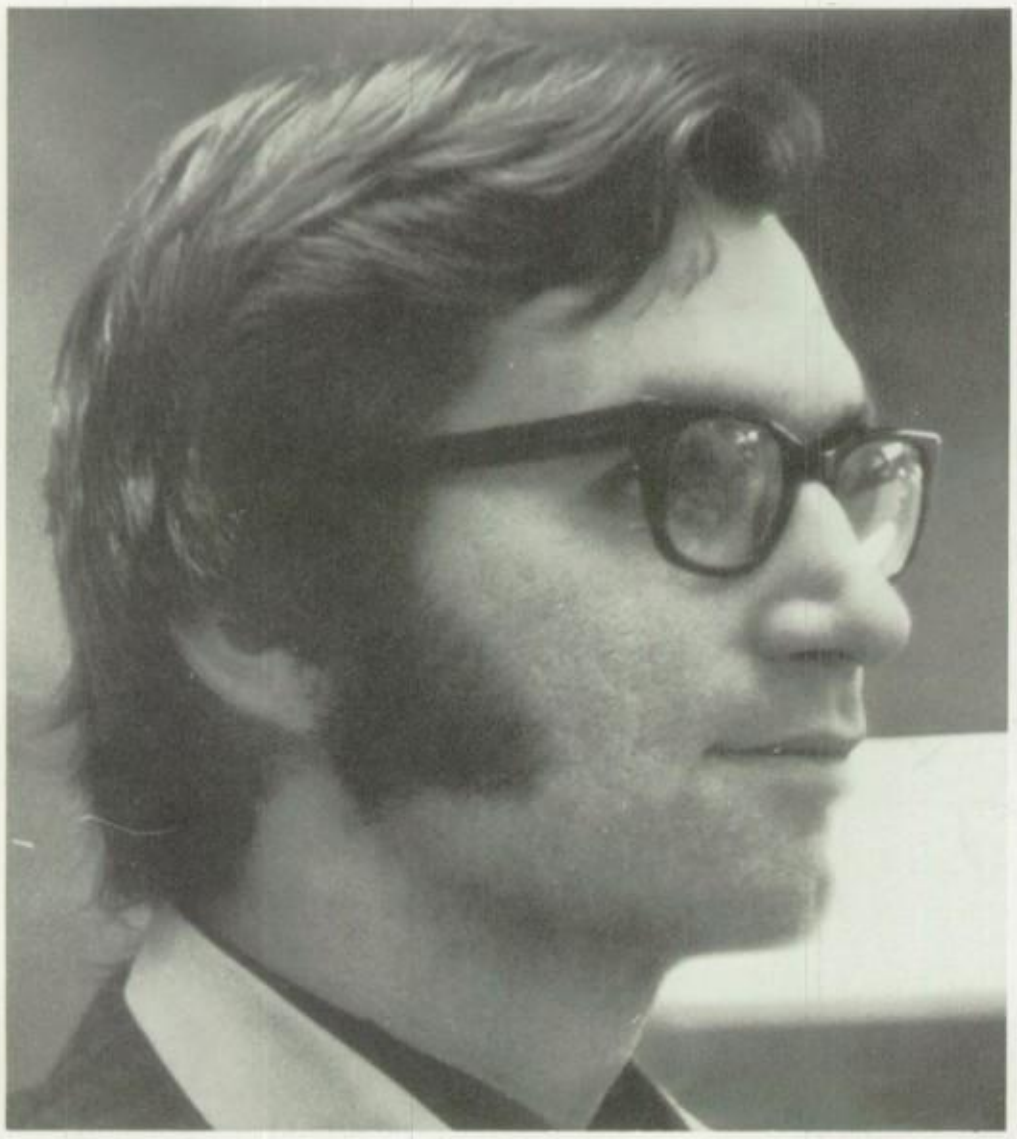
Robert Houston

Mr. Houston returns to John Jay with a year of graduate study behind him and with the hope that his calculus class will be able to absorb some of his new knowledge. He is the advisor of the revived Math Team, the "Irrationals".



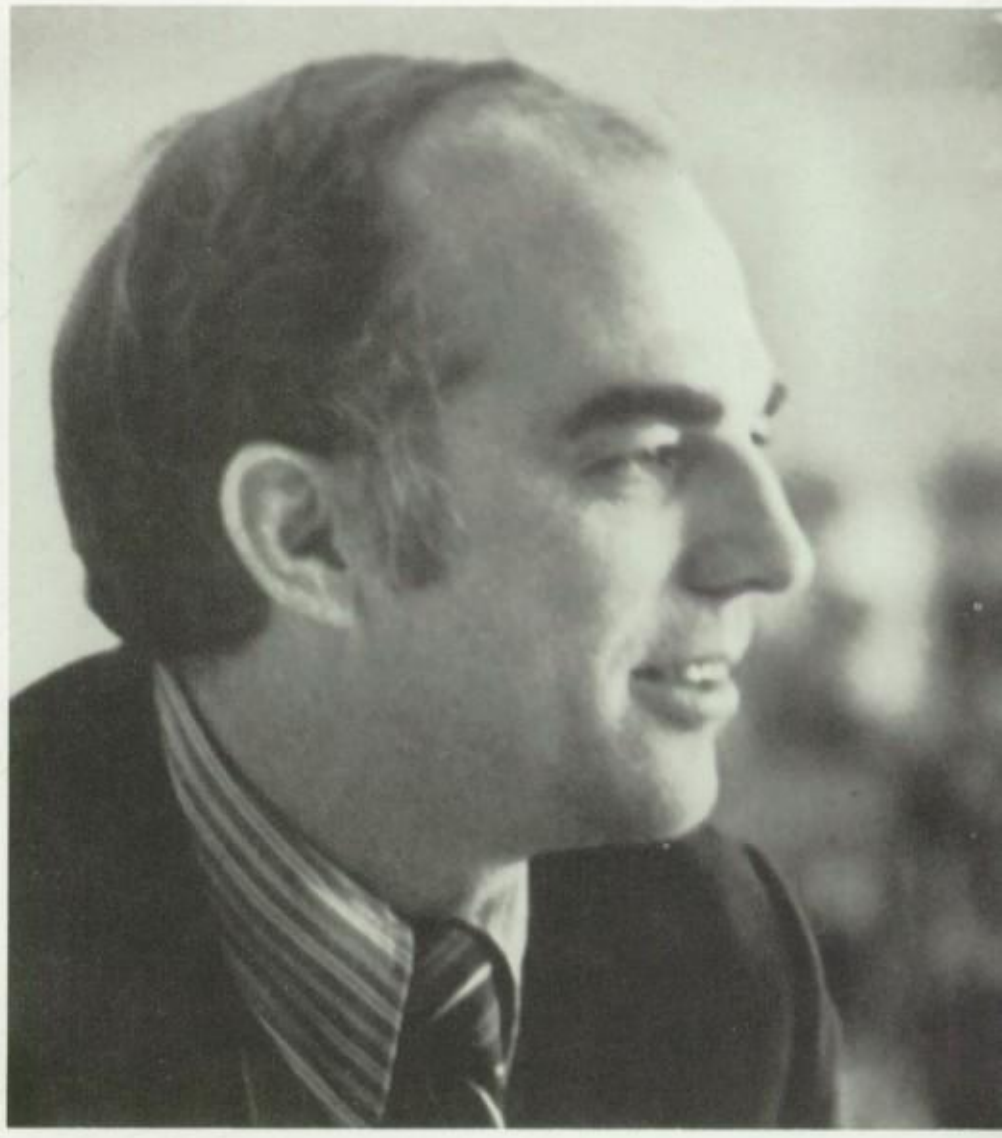
Michael Kirk

After making a detailed explanation on how the stock market functions, Mr. Kirk turns to the class and asks the deadly question, "Don't you understand?"



Robert Stanhope

Along with teaching math, Mr. Stanhope's daily routine consists of: Throwing a piece of chalk over his shoulder, missing, picking up another piece while stepping on the first.

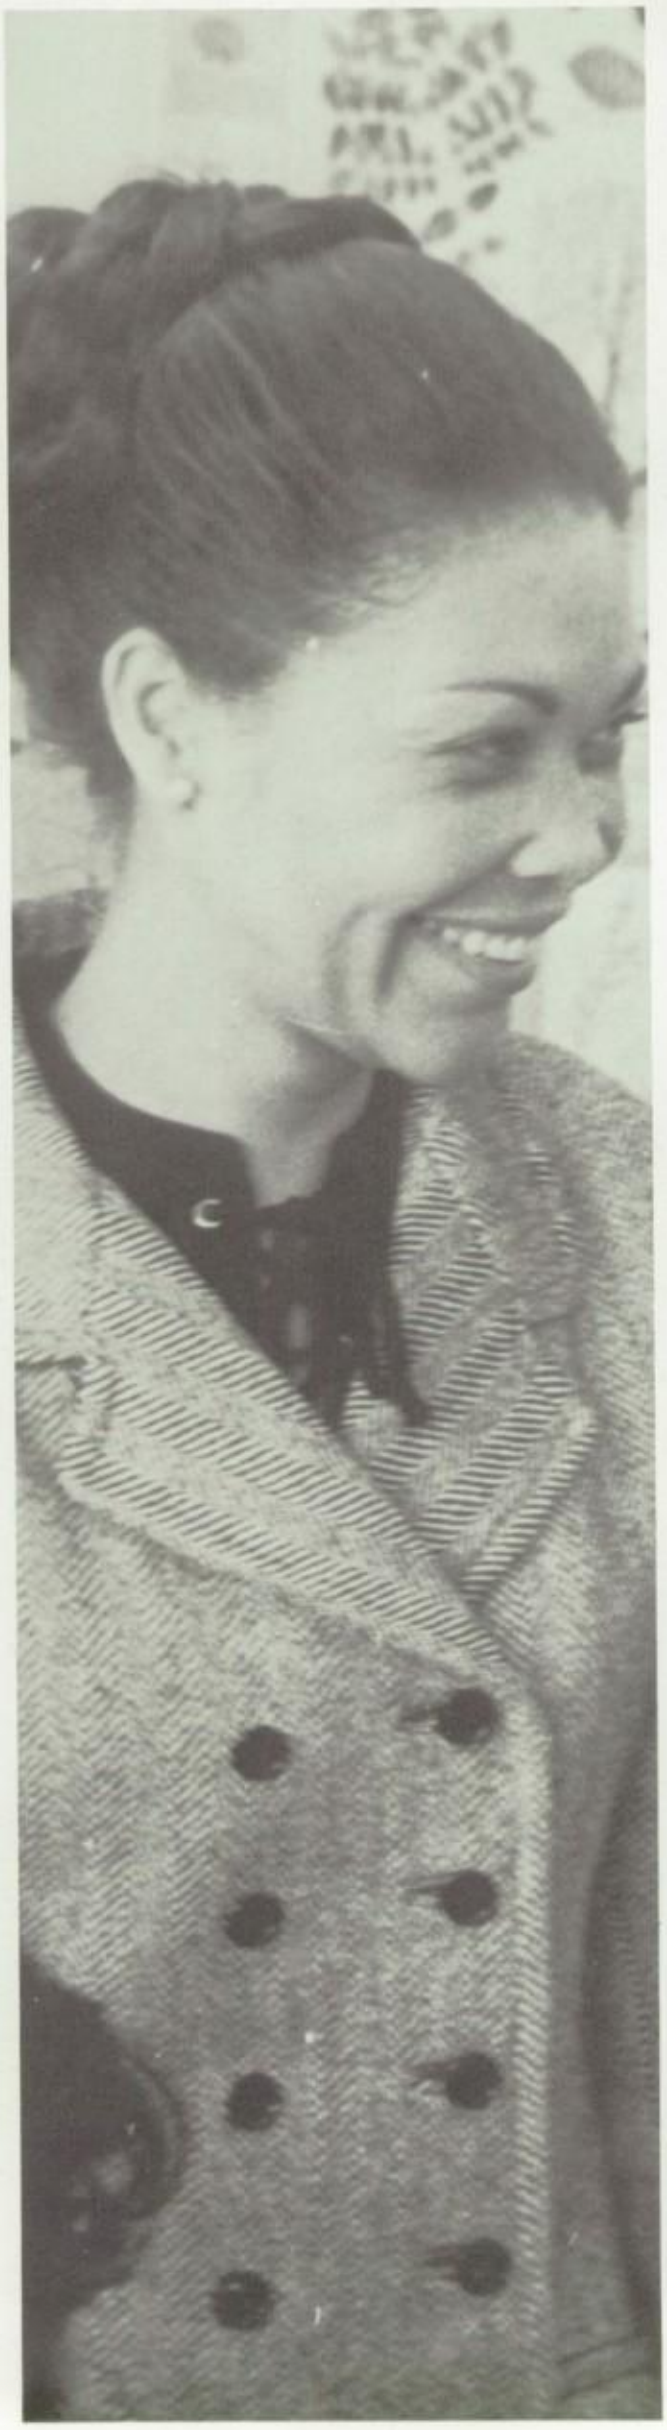


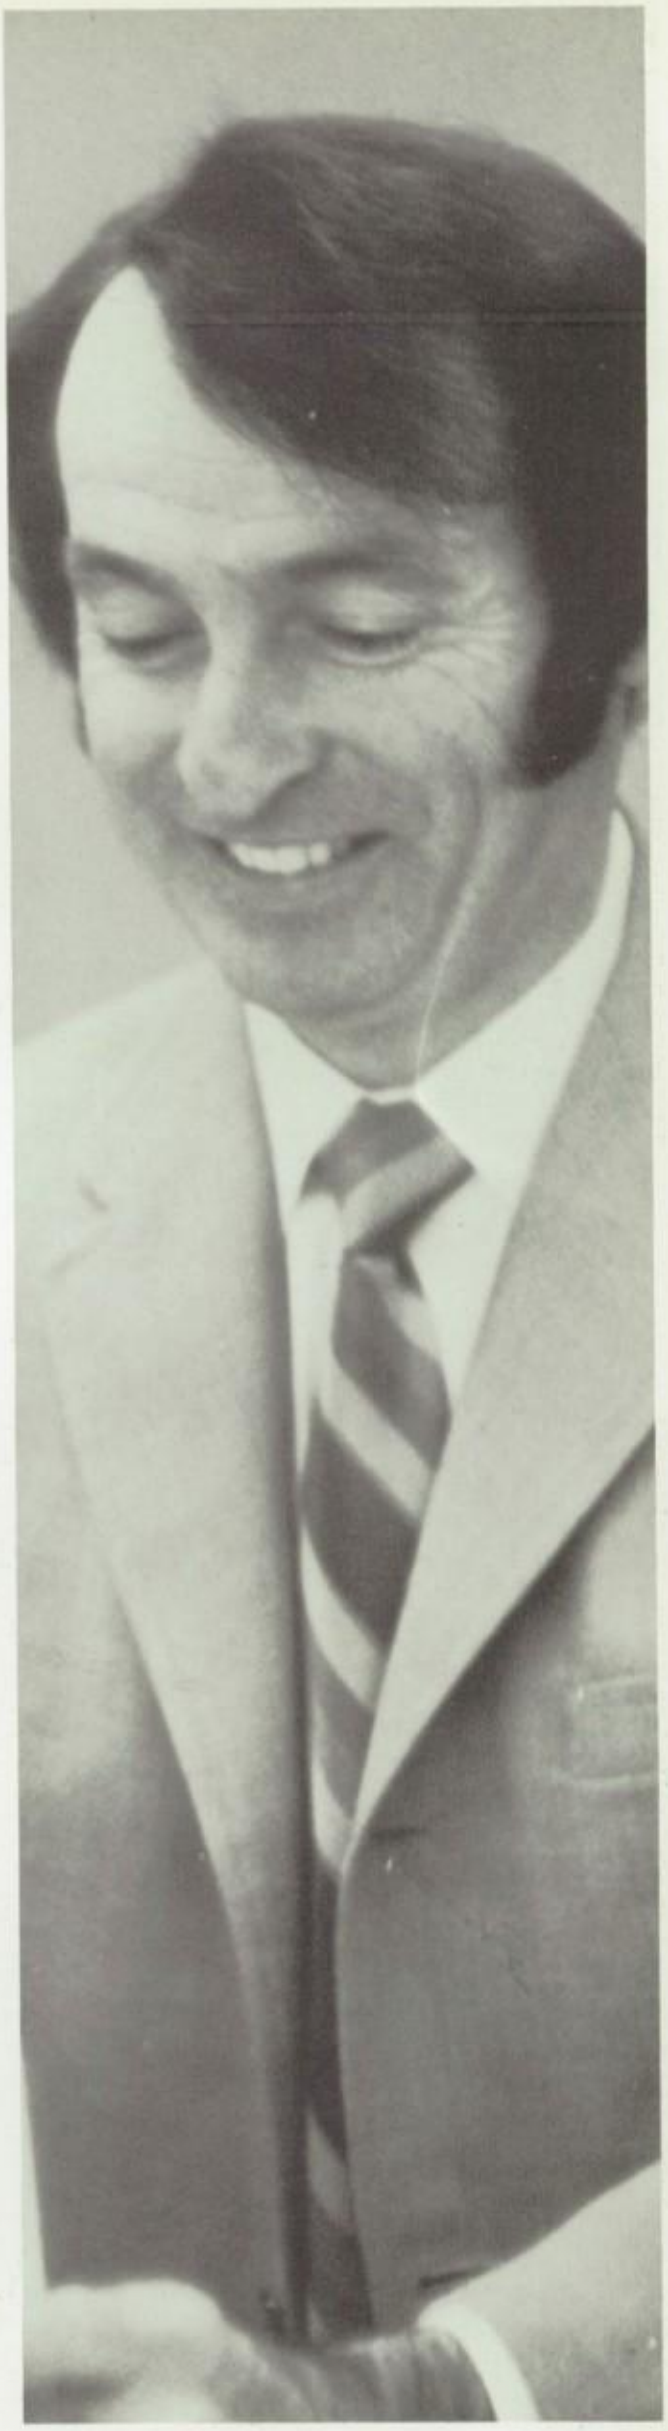
Bernard Sweeney

Mr. Sweeney gets the attention of his classes by trying to intimidate them. "O.K kiddies, focus your eyeballs up here ... We've got to have a test, you're all passing!"

Thomas O'Day
Science Department Chairman
Mr. O'Day can be found in C-1, 14-16, trying to prevent his A.P. Chemistry students from blowing up C building.

Delano Barbour
Miss Barbour can often be seen in C building girls room trying to catch as many "culprits" as she can. In between trips, she can be found in C-5 with a beaker of tea in one hand and directing her class with the other.

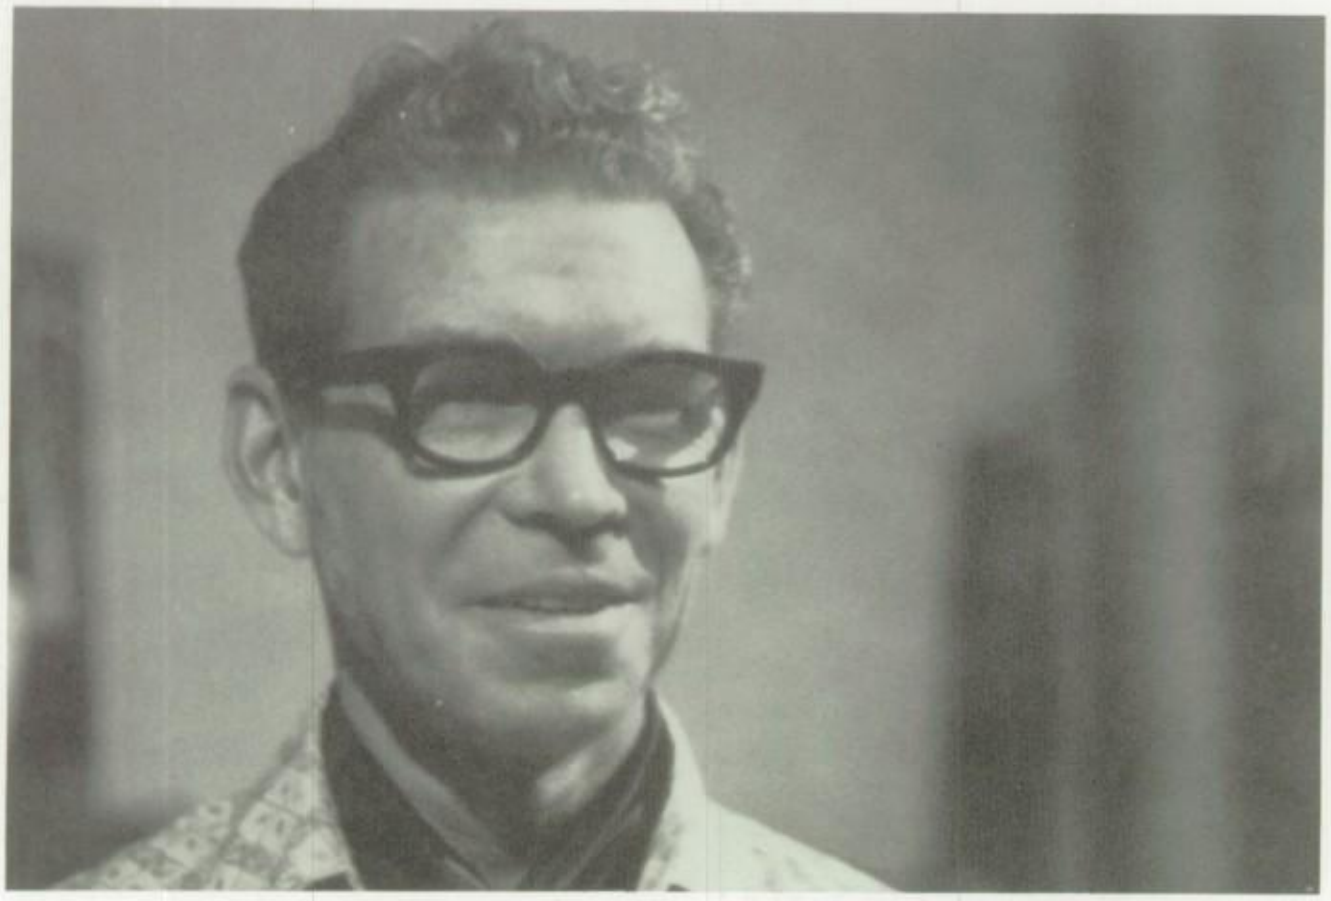




Lawrence Benjamin
Mr. Benjamin quietly teaches his Chemistry classes with the assurance that stems from experience.

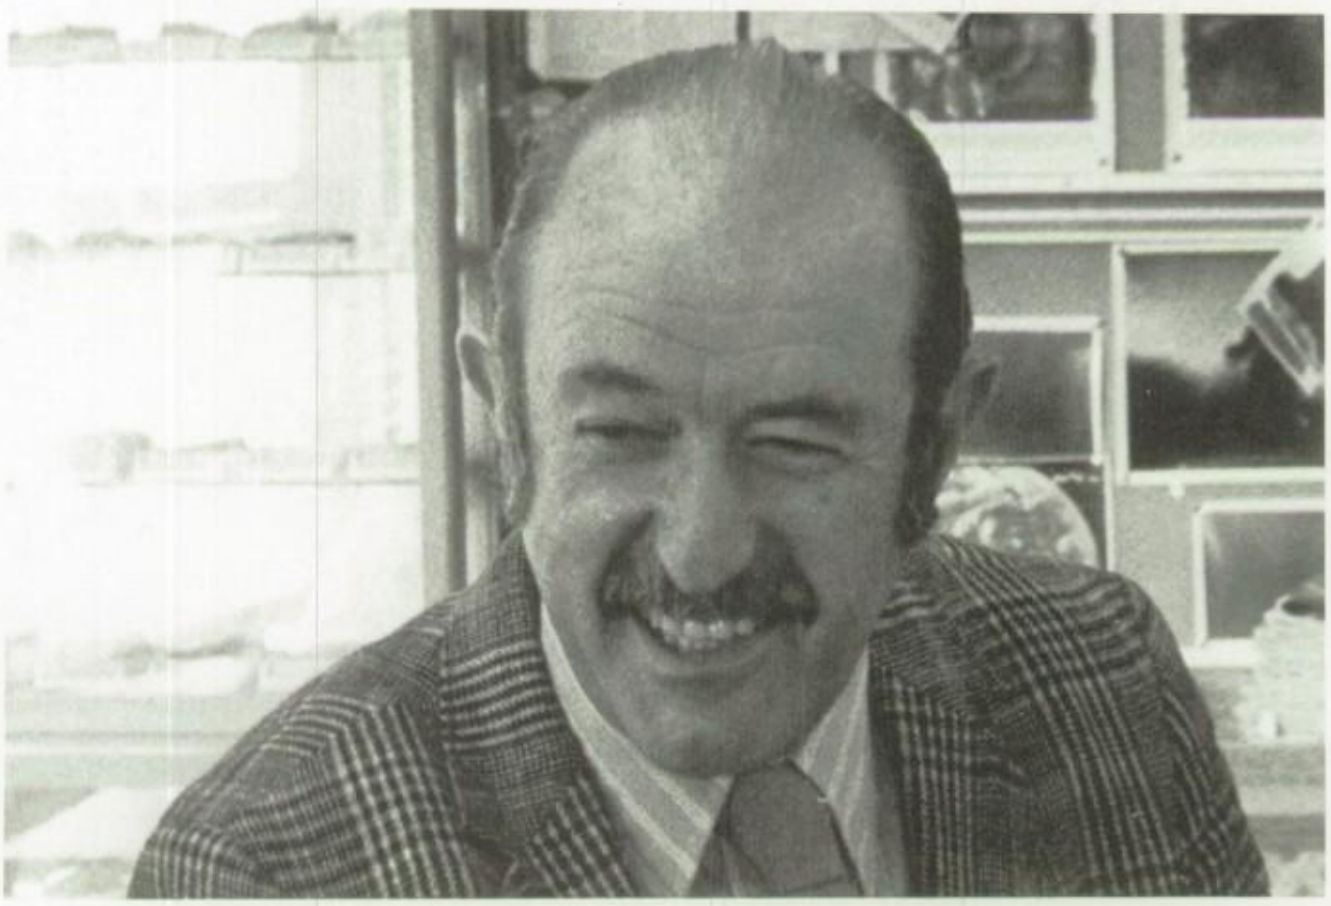
John Geddes

Mr. Geddes holds the school record for pauses mid-sentence, which have been timed at over seconds. But students who think this is the time fo a cat-nap should beware, for they are soon likel to be awakened by his booming voice as he drive home a point.



Brainard Gibson

Southern talk and hospitality are all his, as he guilt slips into class late, hoping nobody will notice.

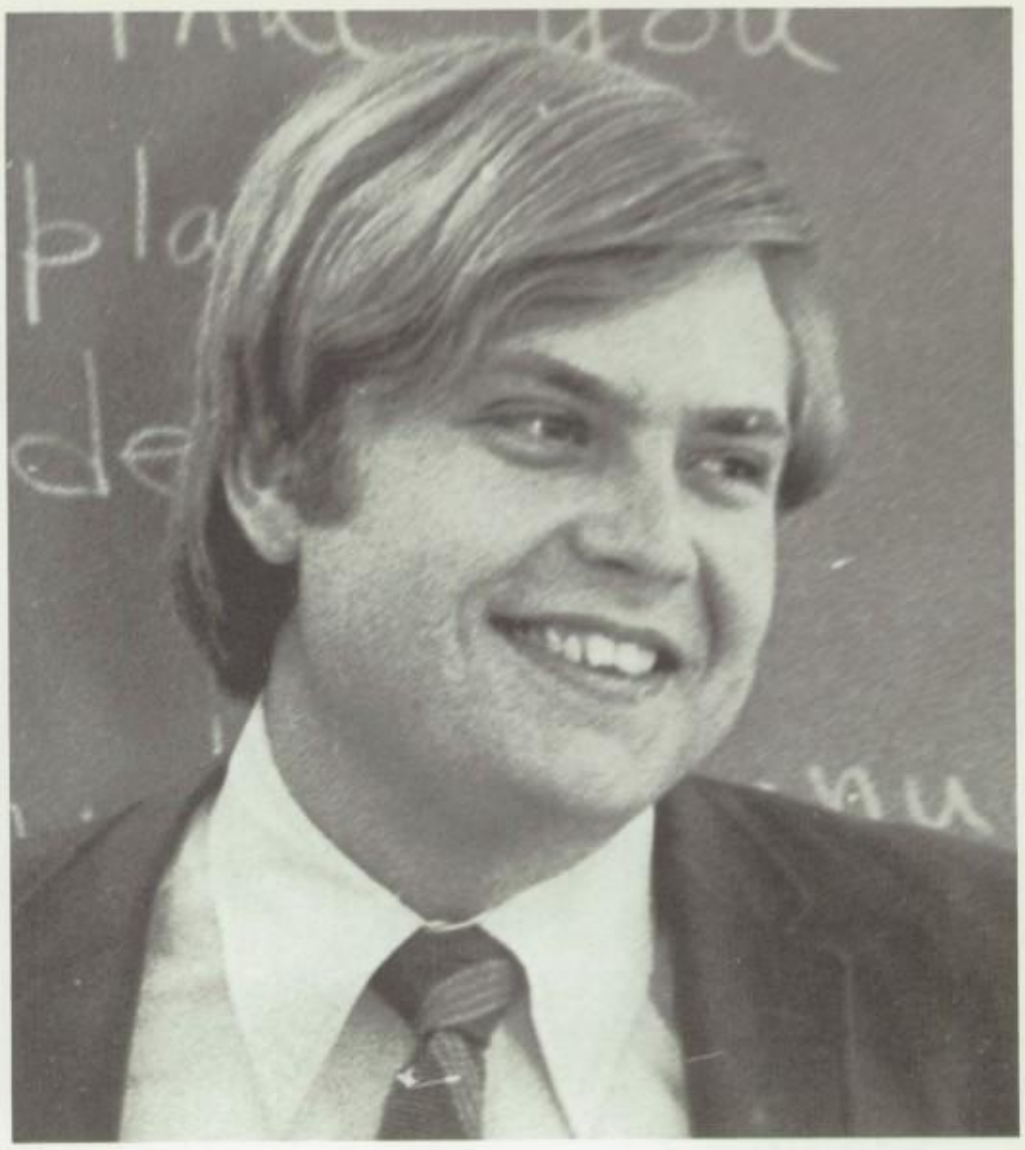


Milton Goldberg

Mr. Goldberg is well liked by his students for hi understanding, and for his graphic explanations "You know this doesn't apply to physics alone, a a matter of fact ..."

Terry Johnston

Into our vat of bubbles of trouble
We'll add a pinch of hydrochloric bubble.
Then a squirt or two of octane gas,
And a volunteer from the class.
A gram of lead, some liquid gold,
A liter of water and a jar of mold.
Could this concoction be
Some strange form of mercury?



Martin Kochanov

My name is Ko-chan-ov—like the sneeze. This is Mr. Kochanov's first year here. He is from Pittsburgh, where smog and steel were his best friends.

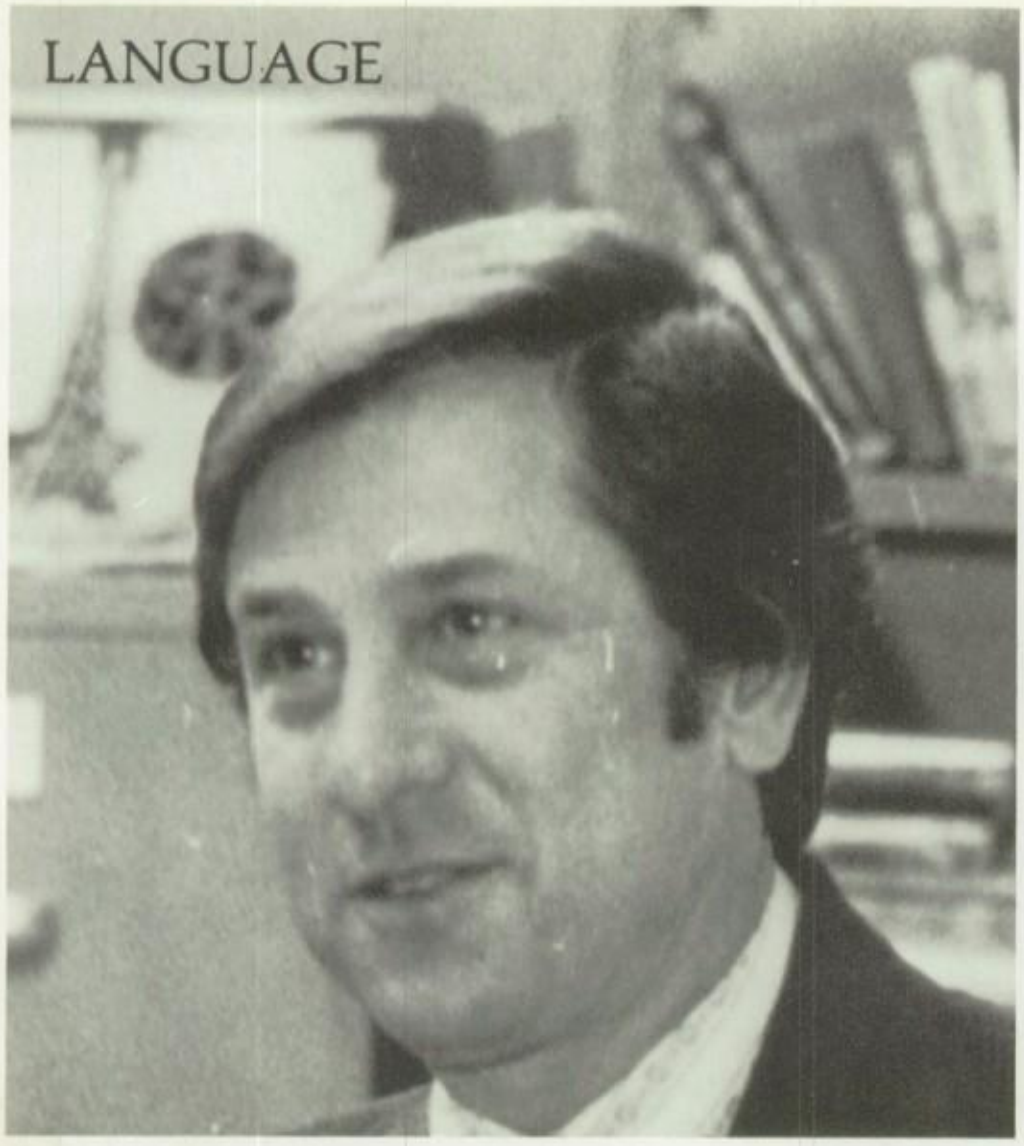
Herbert Lightner

Mr. Lightner conducts his classes with a flare that is his alone and which makes him one of the students' favorite teachers. "You rascal, you!"

Charles Mandia

Mr. Mandia is commonly known for his famous "chapeau", brilliant ties, and his delight in Sasparilla. He has become quite adept at bouncing up and down on his toes while delivering his daily "Pearls of Wisdom".

LANGUAGE



Edward Calabrese
Language Department Chairman

Enhancing B building with his pleasant personality, Mr. Calabrese can be seen crawling through towering students, reading "Le Petit Nicolas", or exercising his authority in the corridors.

Rosario Angulo

Mrs. Angulo is an enthusiastic person who puts her all into her teaching and int making the Spanish Club one of the best clubs on campus.

Helen Callenius

It has been known for some time that even though Miss Callenius appears to be a mild-mannered school teacher, she is, in reality, an oracle used by the gods to communicate with the students.

Dorothy Chary

"Monday we'll have a test on the first three chapters in Amsco, Tuesday we'll hav a test on the first four lessons of "Recits du Reader's Digest", and Wednesday we' have an oral on the conversations of 7-10. What? Yes, you may go see the nurse."

Cecilie Courtright

ways greeting you with a brilliant smile and either "Guten tag" or a "Bonjour", Mrs. Courtright lovingly aches her classes three languages: German, French, d sign language.

Vincent DeNapoli

After a year of travel and study in Europe, Mr. DiNapoli has returned to us with a new exuberance.

Jacqueline Logan

A quietly enthusiastic teacher, Mrs. Logan does everything possible to interest her students in Spanish conversation, including such inspiring projects as communal "sing-ins."

Walter McEnaney

A prudent Scotsman, Mr. Mac runs a tight shop. The student body can be thankful to him for his many hours of work on the Science Annex, in which he has proven himself a master carpenter and jack-of-all-trades.

Louise Miller

Although Mrs. Miller herself is continually subjected to student and bachelor "cook ing," she shows sympathy for her own students, subjected to the same torture, b bringing in homemade Long Island doughnuts to soothe their agonized stomachs.

INDUSTRIAL AND PRACTICAL ARTS

Thelma Goldberg

Always there with flexible fingertips, Mrs. Goldberg is constantly repeating herself: "Feet flat on the floor, sitting up tall, eyes on your copy, ready, Type! fff space, fgf space, 1;1 space ..."

Mabel DiPace

Typing is her game
But terror is her fame.
Sit up, sit straight, sit tight.
Keep those fingers from your sight.
If by chance you might do,
Dah-ling, I wouldn't do that if I were you!

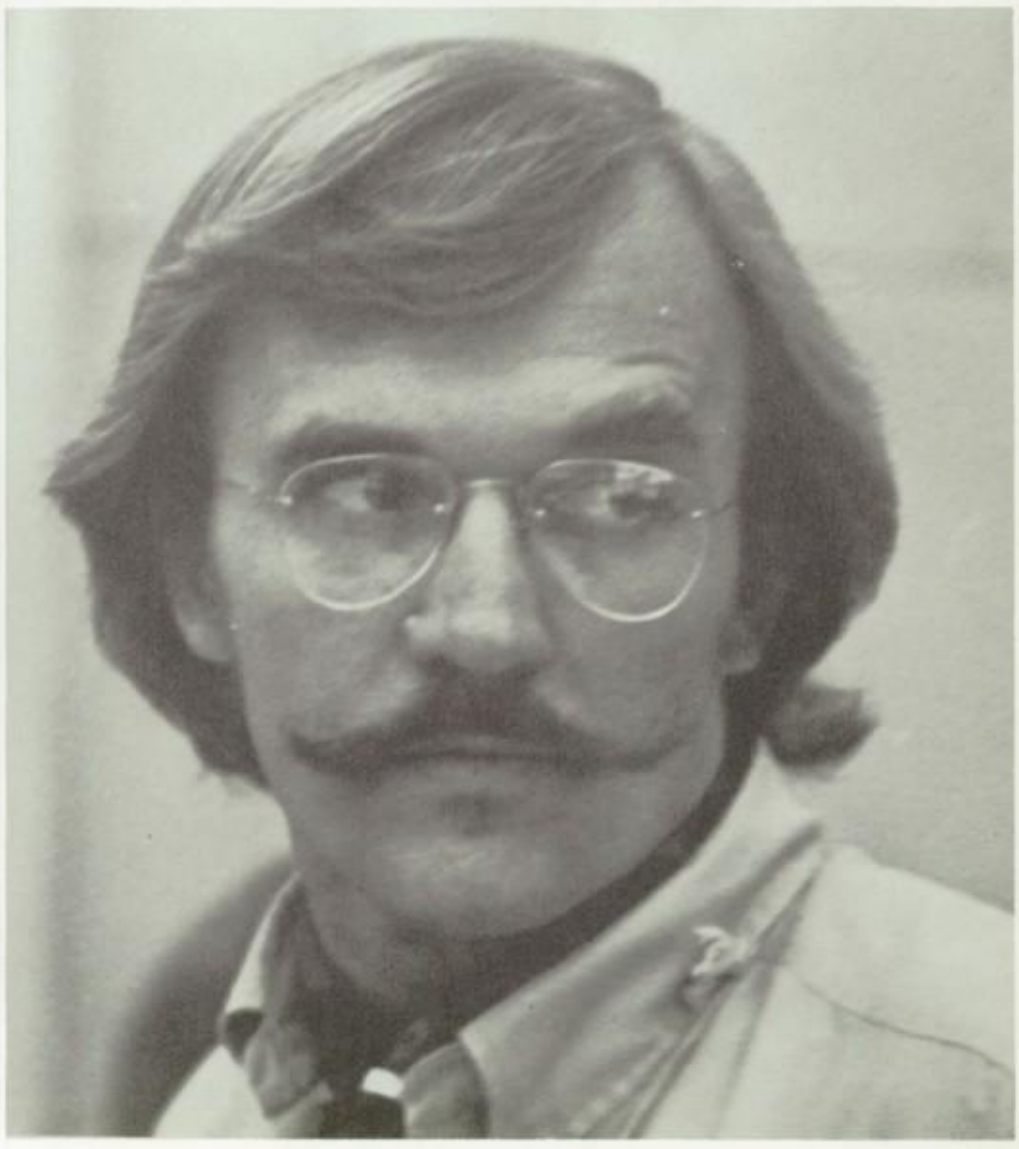
ART

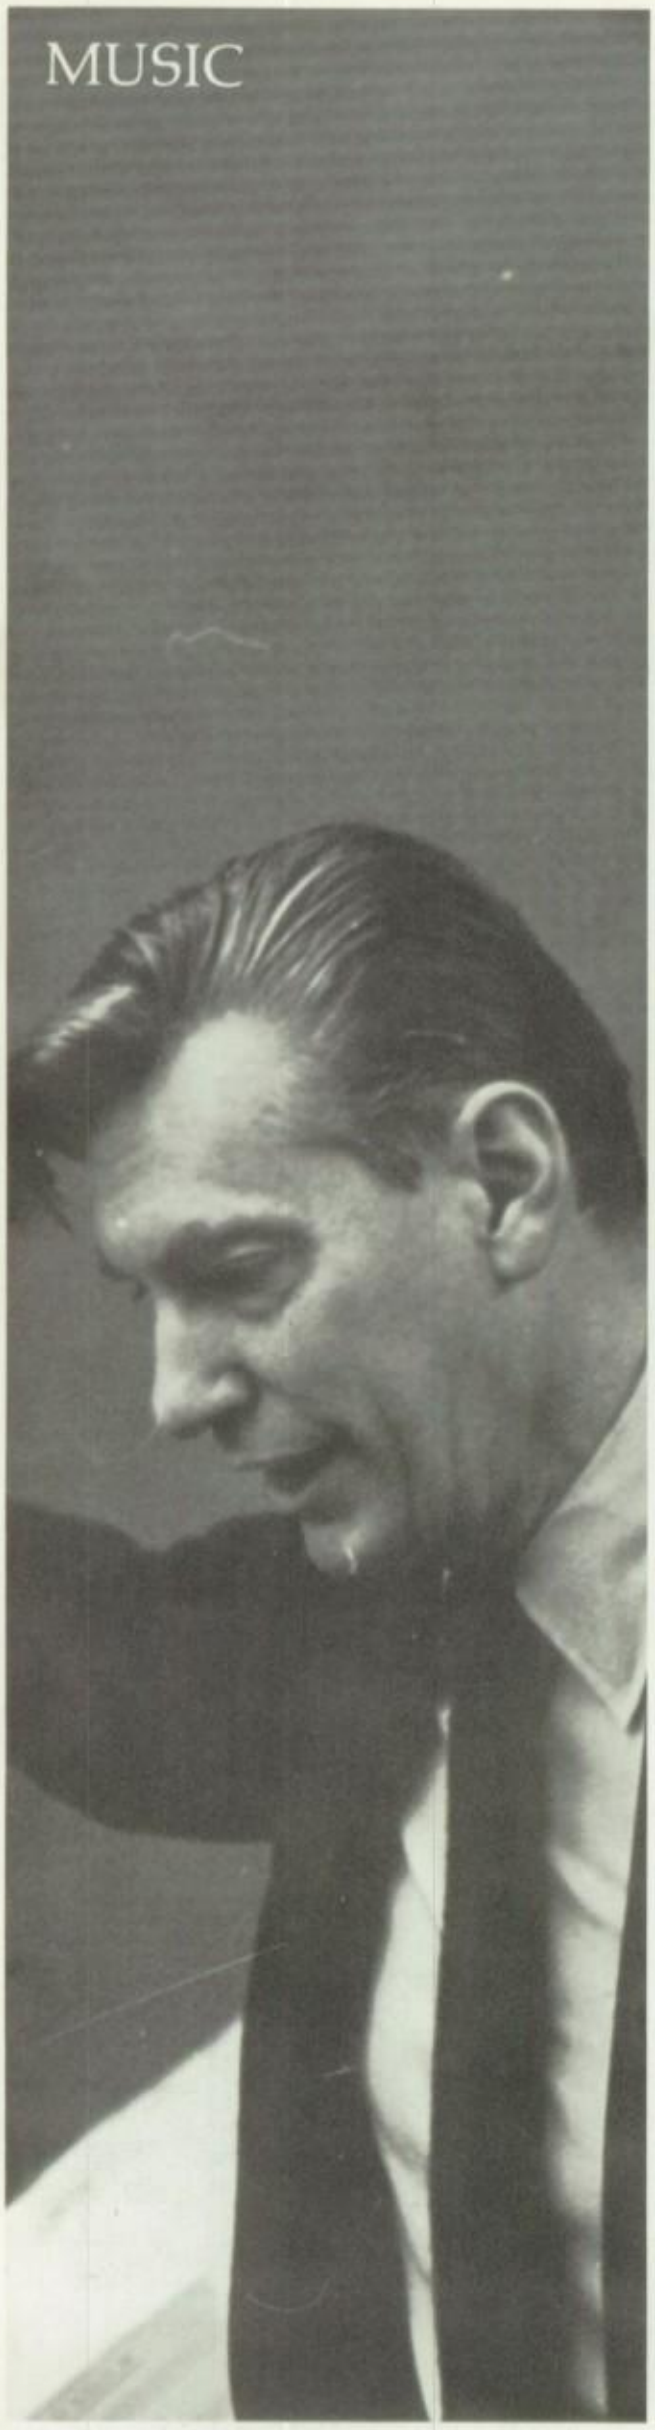
Katherine Courreges
Art Department Chairman
With a palette in one hand and a paint brush in the other, Miss Courreges fearlessly leads the Art Department to mastery of the arts.

Darlene Blickenstaff
Mrs. Blickenstaff is well liked by her students for her continuous encouragement and support in the projects they undertake. "Never say can't in my class."

John Ticknor
Sporting some "new growth" this year, "Tick" continues to run his Mechanical Drawing classes with an iron hand. (At least that's what he thinks.) His greeting: "O.K., who's got the problem?"

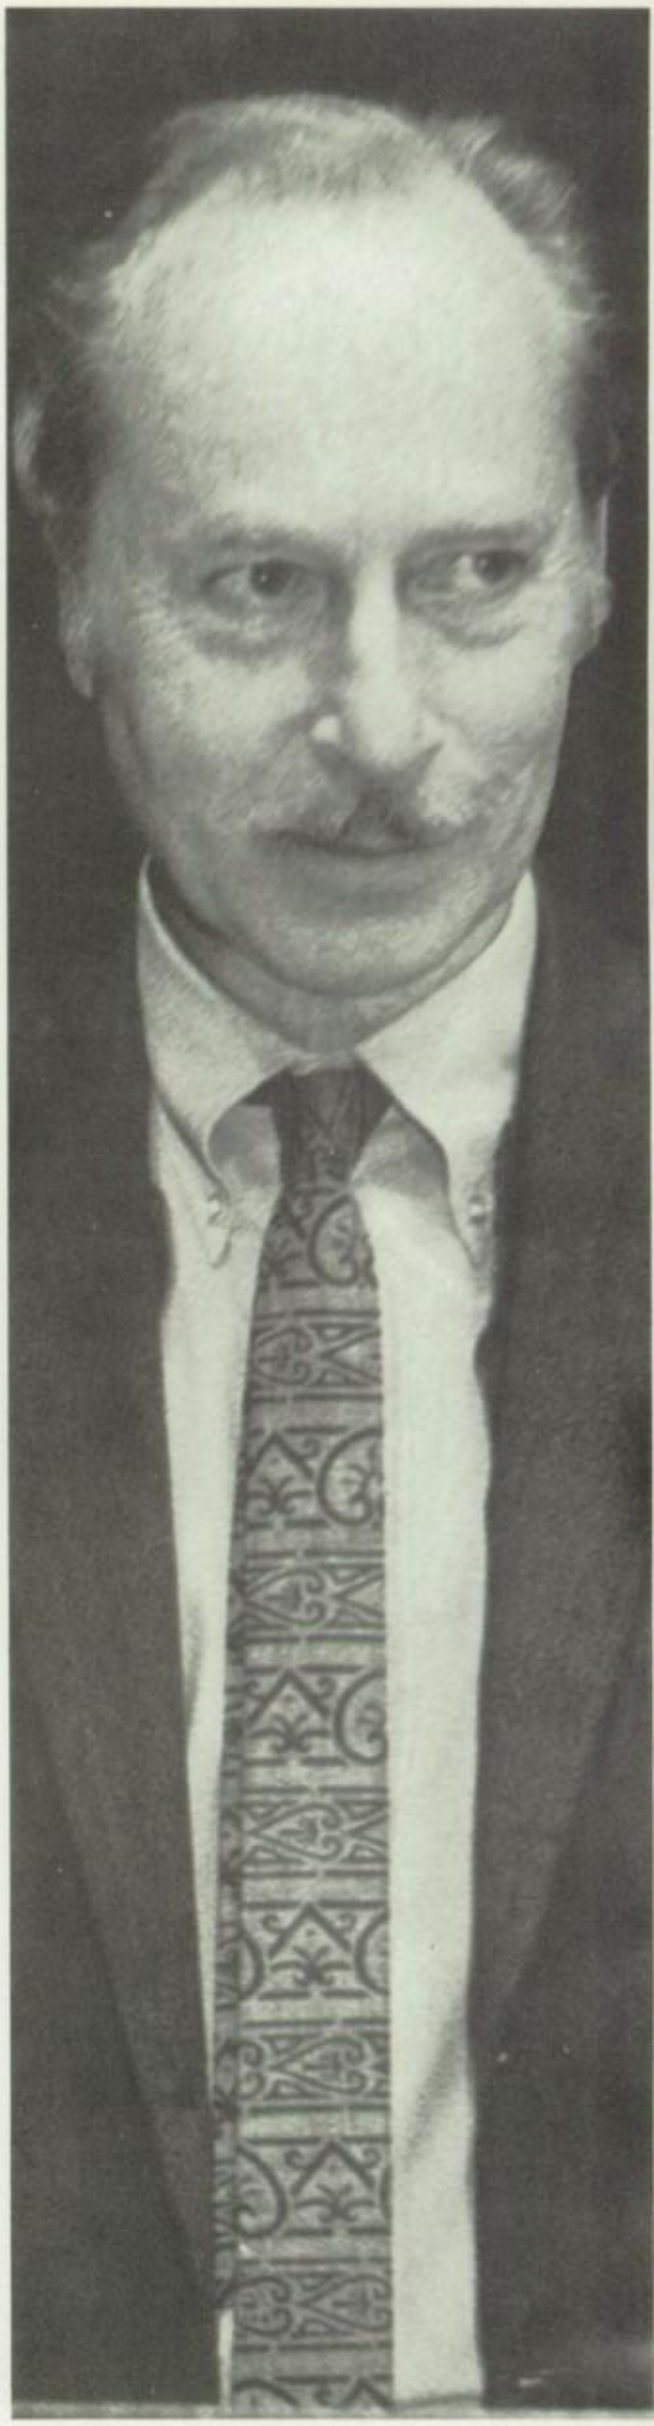
David Westfall
Mr. Westfall keeps his students on the ball by saying "Good evening" at 9 o'clock in the morning and "Have a nice weekend!" on Tuesday.



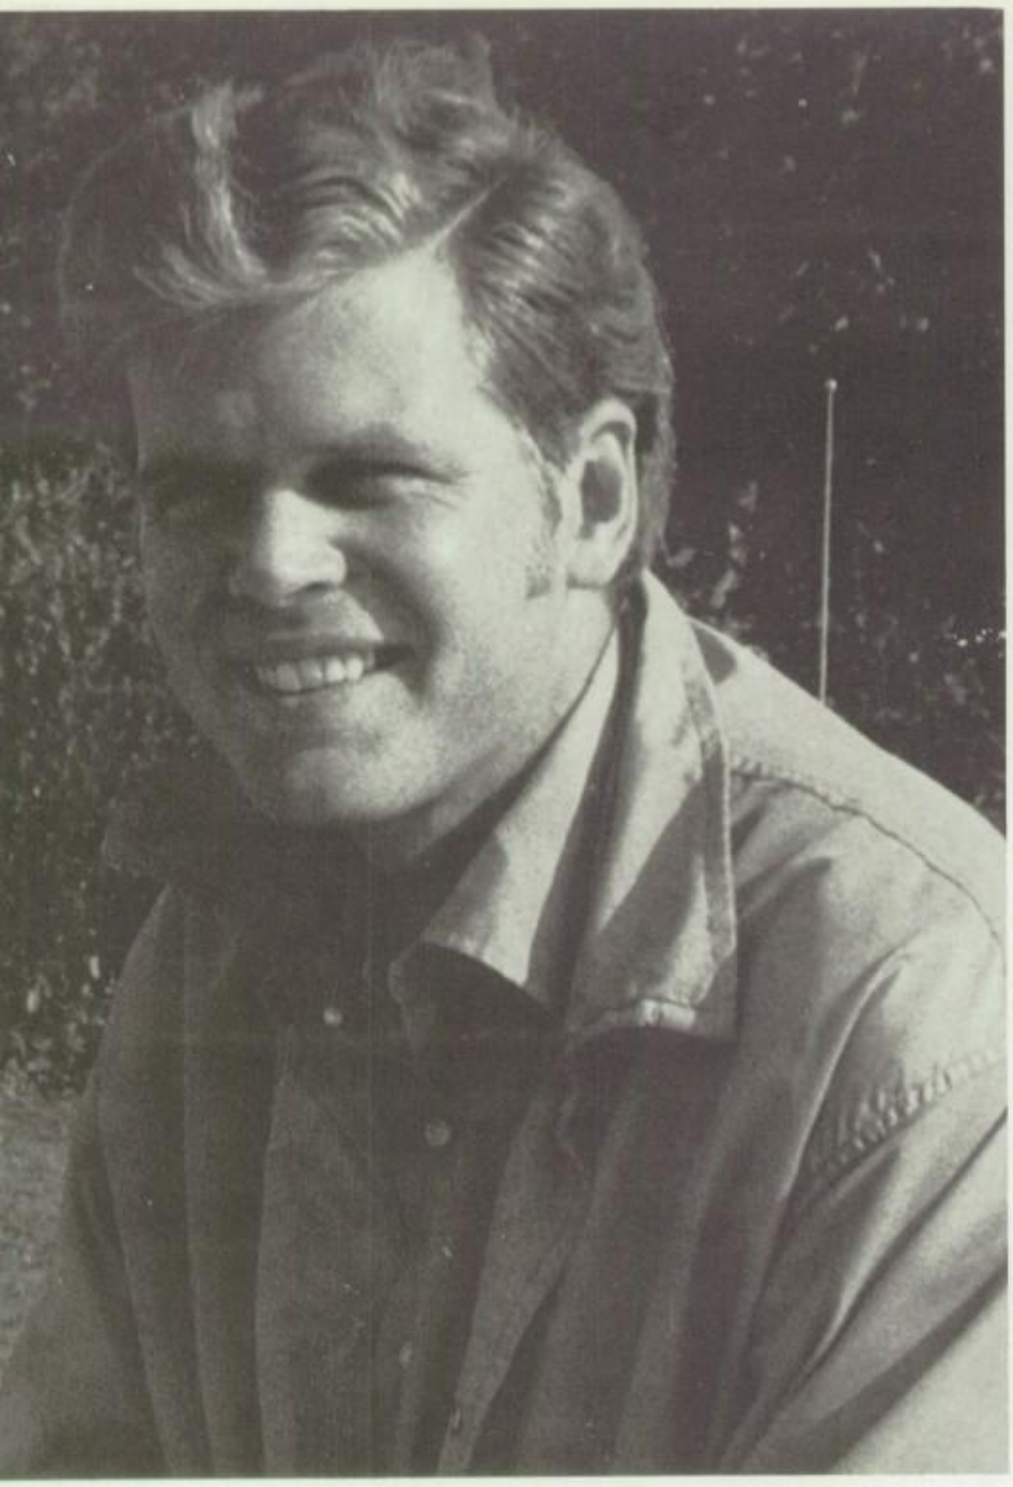


Walter Finlayson
Music Department Chairman
Known also by his aliases "Retlaw" and "Sonny Day", Mr. Finlayson fearlessly conducts the band to success.

Gilbert Freeman
A student at heart, he is most comfortable in a turtle neck sweater and bell-bottoms. His favorite pastime is directing: Senior Choir, Junior Choir, play rehearsals (spring and fall), and the Variety Show. "Enunciate!"

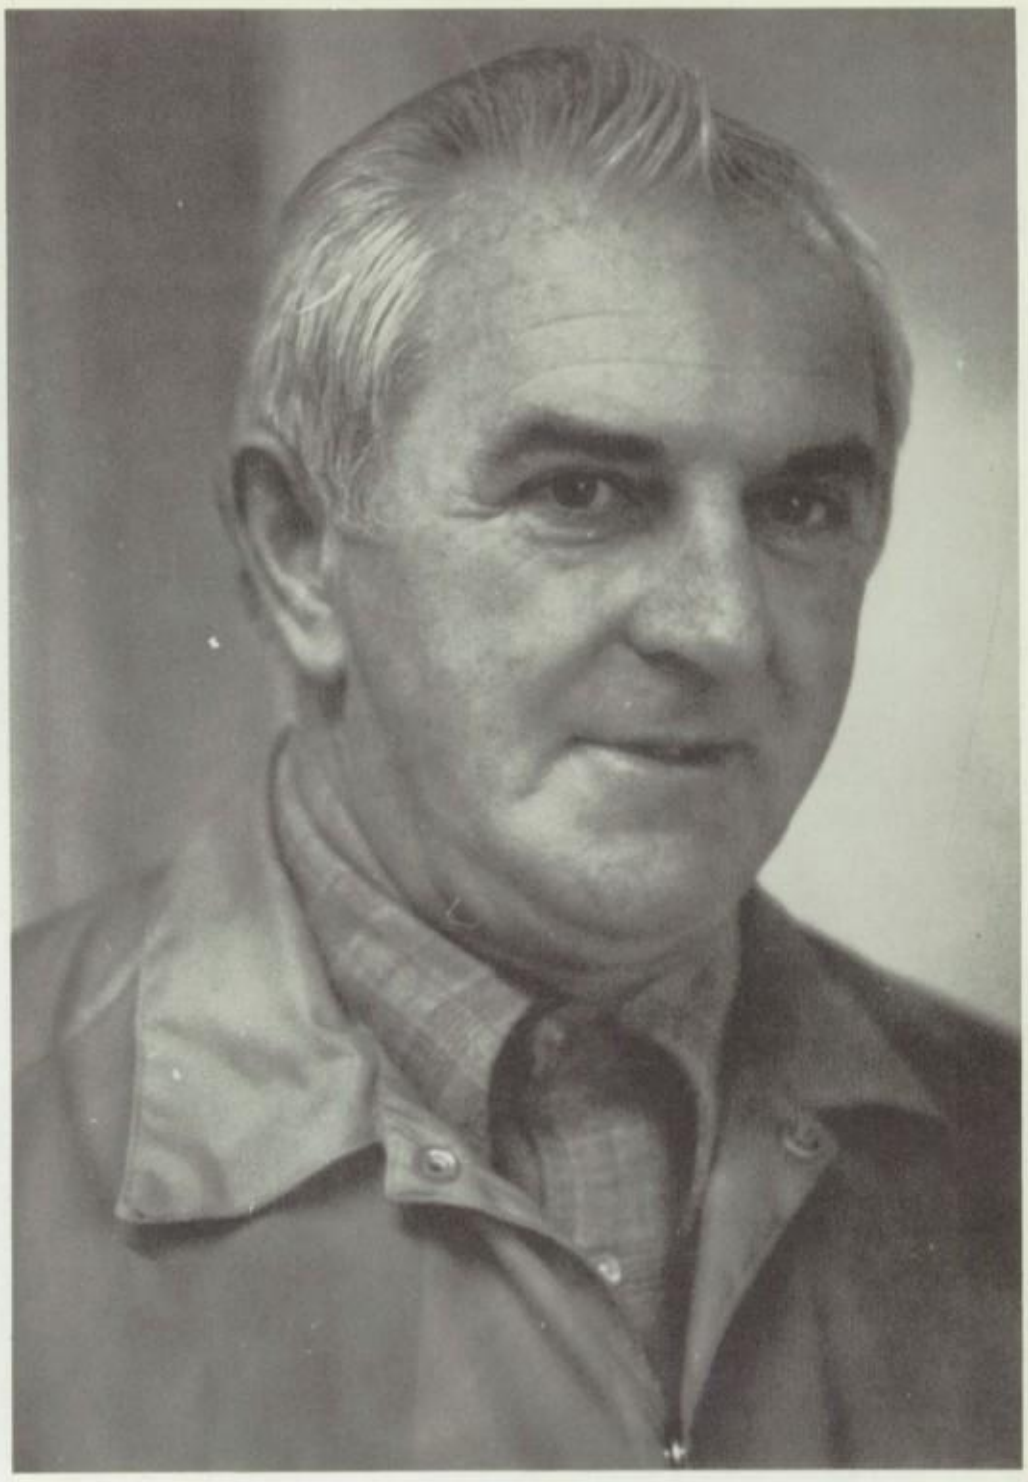


Paul Ehrlich
Amidst broken bows, splintered bridges, and popped "A" strings, Mr. Ehrlich conducts his orchestra through the masterpieces of Beethoven, Vivaldi, and Teleman, producing a fury of harmonious tones.



Robert Anderson

Mr. Anderson sits sedately in the passenger seat of the Driver Ed car, calmly commenting to his student drivers on their mistakes ... "Just a little bit more to the right. We want to avoid this Mack truck."

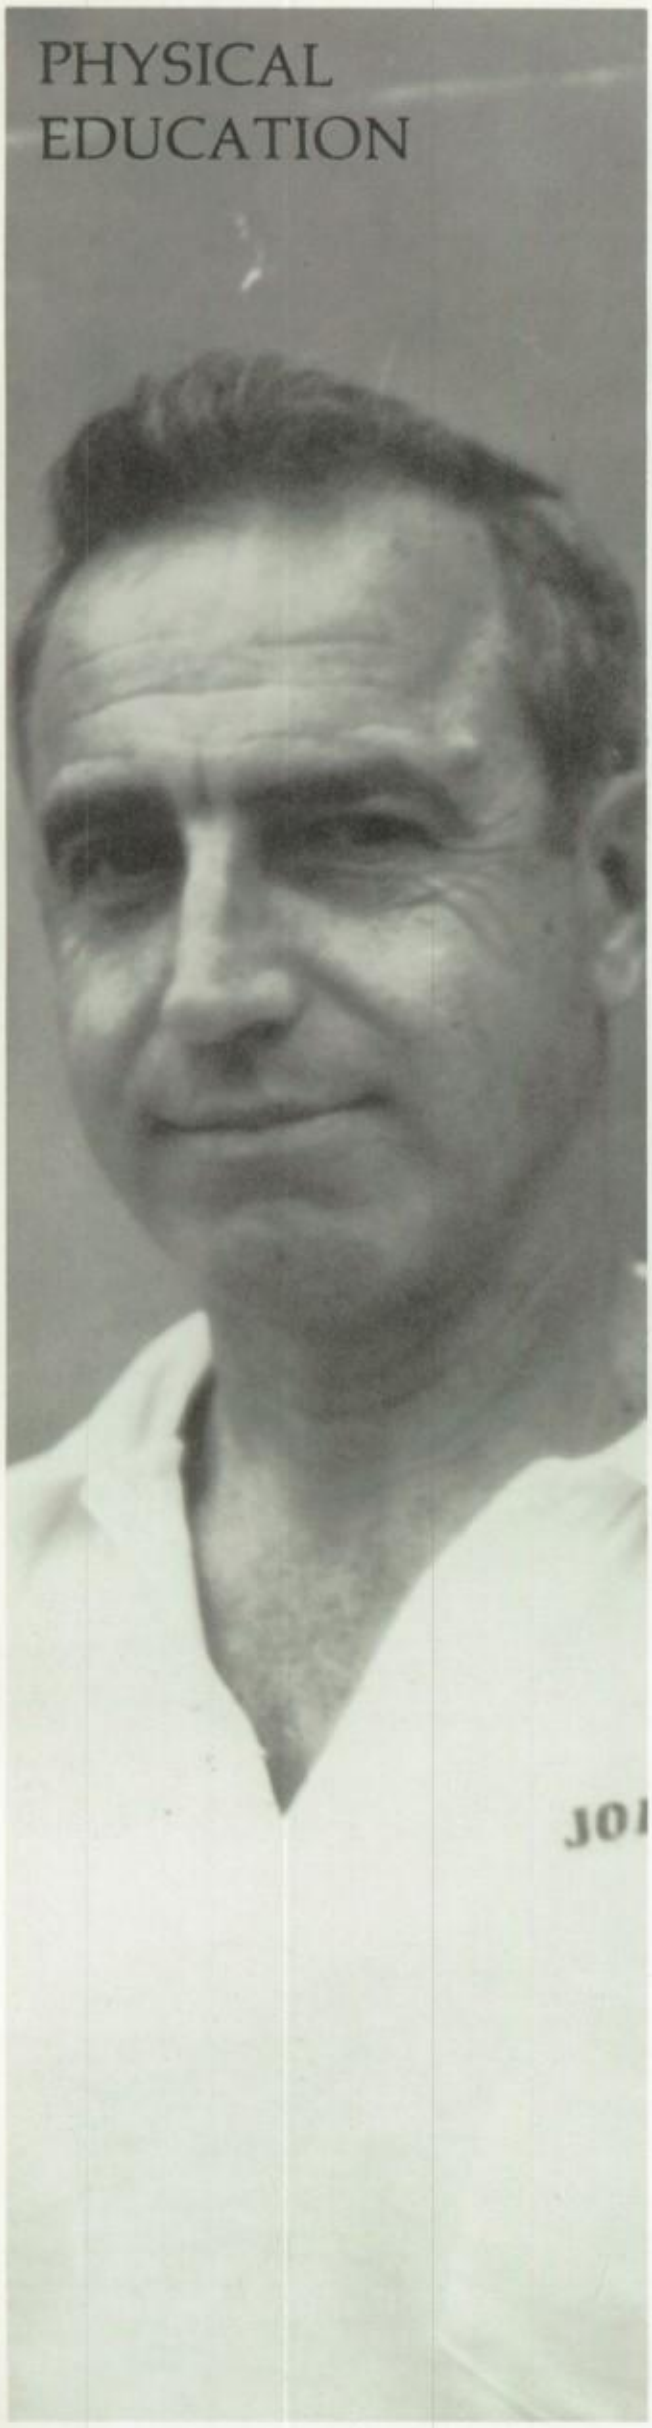


Thomas Collins

Along with many Driver Ed films shown in the classroom are the chapter tests. Mr. Collins lets his students know when they are behind by starting the class with these words: "The following people are delinquent in these tests ... "

DRIVER EDUCATION

PHYSICAL EDUCATION



Martin Todd

Physical Education Department Chairman

Mr. Todd is trying out a new program on seniors this year. It's called co-ed gym. We just hope that he will be able to keep up with us until June!

Elizabeth Jones

Along with her friendly spirit and honesty, Miss Jones possesses a sense of humor combined with understanding, "You're doing fine, there's just one little thing you've got wrong. You're supposed to hit the volleyball over the net, not through it!"

Ronald Lyons

Coach Lyons is the proud father of his three season, undefeated, UWPL football team. If you don't think he's proud, just ask him about one of "his boys".

SEMINARIO

WHATEVER YOUR GIFT

What is that you hold in your hand?
Nothing, you say? Look again.
Every hand holds some special gift—
A hammer, a broom, a pen,
A hoe, a scalpel, an artist's brush,
A needle, a microscope,
A violin's bow, a way with words
In the giving of faith and hope.
What is that you hold in your hand?
Whatever your gift may be,
It can open your door to abundant life—
You hold in your hand the key.

Helen Lowrie Marshall

So The Last Shall Be First,

Matthew Zema

"You only get out of something what you put into it."

For those who are friends with Matt know that he follows this philosophy in everything from sports to work. Determined as he may seem, he takes the time to make a friend wherever he may go.

Valerie Wood

"The only way to have a friend is to be one."

Benjamin Wood

"... for one to know wisdom and discipline, to discern the sayings of understanding, to receive the discipline that gives insight, righteousness and judgement and uprightness, to give to the inexperienced ones shrewdness, to a young man knowledge and thinking ability.

A wise person will listen and take in more instruction, and a man of understanding is the one who acquires skillful direction, to understand a proverb and a puzzling saying, the words of wise persons and their riddles."

Karen Milone

"When the summer sun lights up everything and the sand burns beneath bare feet, all nature is awake and full of life: trees push forth new leaves, birds take long flights, animals and insects run and jump, and children discover a world of new wonders around them.

But in the winter nature sleeps, and while it lies dreaming, the mist appears. Walking in the mist is like entering into nature's dream. Now the birds take only short flights so they will not lose their way; traffic lights and road signs disappear, and cars and buses move slowly, yet one has only time to catch a glimpse of them before they vanish again. At night, red, green, and yellow lights color the all-enveloping mist, and everything seems unreal. Only indoors can people and animals live as usual."

The senior class of 1973 would like to thank Mr. Marshall and Mr. Adams, our class advisors, for all they have done to help us during our years at John Jay.

Mr. James Marshall

Through the efforts of Mr. Marshall, our class was guided in the right direction from the start. In our first two years at John Jay he helped us carry out our goals and establish our motives through his leadership. Unfortunately, his talents were needed elsewhere, and after two years of devoted guidance, he had to leave us as our advisor. However, his concern and work for our class was not a wasted effort. We thank you Mr. Marshall.

Mr. Neal Adams

In our final two years here at John Jay, Mr. Adams, our advisor, has been a tremendous help to our class. His persistence and determination to lead us onward and upward has been greatly appreciated by all. He has contributed a great deal of time and effort, and his work has not gone unnoticed. I mean, where would we be without Mr. Adams telling us to get to homeroom in the morning. Where? I'll tell you where. We'd be in the halls of K-building until 2:20 pm. So, Mr. Adams, thank you for all you have done. We'll never forget you.

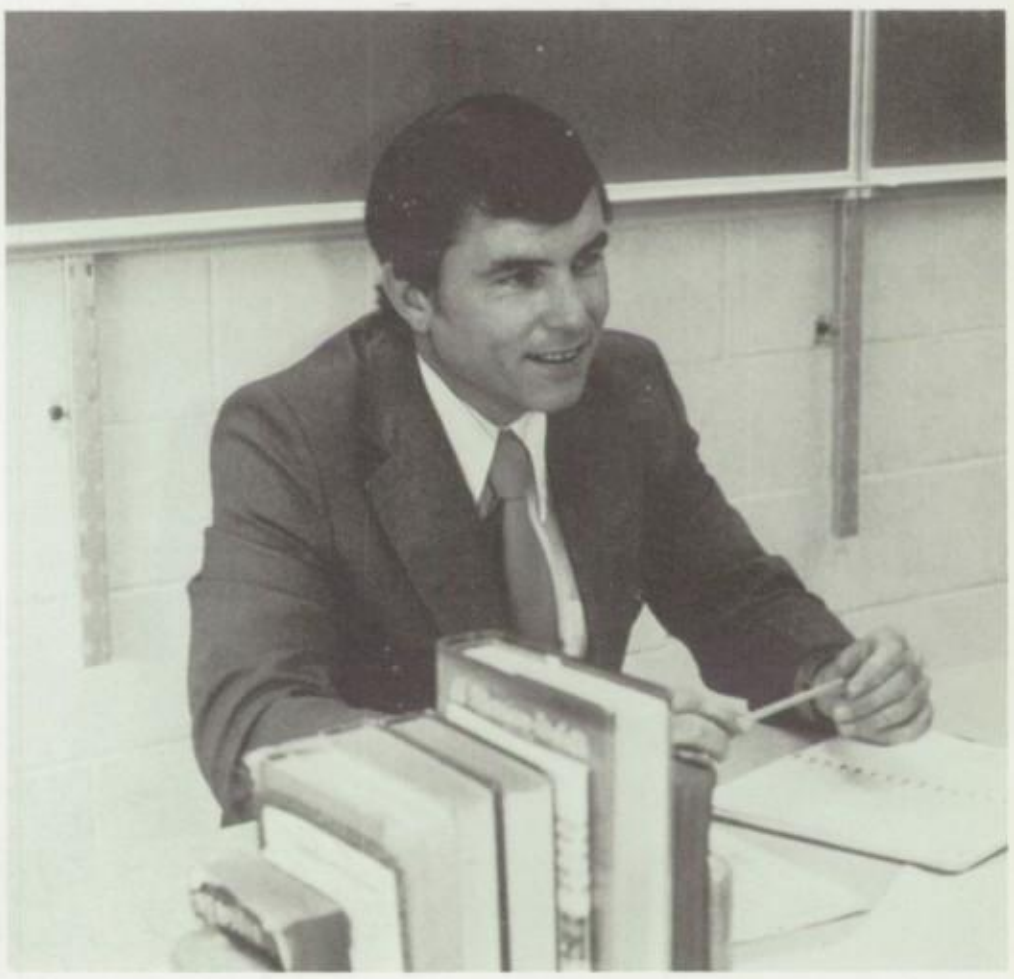
The editors of Statesman '73 would like to take this opportunity to extend our sincerest thanks to the man behind the yearbook, our dedicated advisor, Mr. Richard Curry.



We, the staff of Statesman '73, dedicate this book to Louise Miller for her long and faithful service to the Katonah—Lewisboro school district.

Mrs. Miller began her teaching career in 1940 at the Katonah High School in the field of home economics. She taught for six years and then took time off to raise a family. She substituted in 1957 and 1958 but didn't return to teach full time until 1963. To the benefit of all who have known her, she has been with us ever since.

Mrs. Miller is greatly loved and admired by her students. She is always there to lend a helping hand whether it is to wash and mend clothes or give her time to listen to the problems of her students.

In home ec she only came in contact with girls. To remedy the situation she got together with a fellow teacher and developed a new course—Bachelor Survival. Now she also has the love and admiration of the male population of the school.

To lose Mrs. Miller means to lose an important part of the heart of the school. She has so many times gone above and beyond the call of duty by giving of her time and experience to the various school activities and productions. Mrs. Miller, you have done more for the students and the school than we could ever thank you for, and we hope that you know that we love and honor you. We most certainly will never forget you.

CLASSMEN

HOMEROOM A-1 Front Row: Dorothy Shriner, Ophelia Ogglethrope, Gladys Gnoadde, Annette Hagen, Doug Maffucci, Robert Cumming, Garboy DeVito. Middle Row: June Farrel, Monica Vaughn, Chris Hoffman, Stephen Breen, Timmy Haigh, Mark Nichols, Mortimer Adler, Lester Bodwick. Back Row: George Olduvia, John Bretti, Mark Elman, Terry Fuhst. Missing: Allen Kuehn, Nancy Johnson, Kristin Anderson, Leslie Blackeby, Linda Daur, Helene Funk, Laurie Goldbaum, Nancy Koloski, Nancy Seeds, John Holland, Peter Zimmerman, Frank Lohr, Markus Gmelin, Mike Gustafson.

Frankly the junior class has a "somewhat bleak" battle to wage during the third round in high school. They are exposed to a barrage of C.E.E.B.'s including the S.A.T., A.T., P.S.A.T., N.M.S.Q.T., and the A.C.T., resulting in a royal P.I.T.N. Juniors have to worry about four or more Regents exams, complicated by fourteen or more zits. Being an all American class, they'll have to decide on the infamous prom. (I doubt that many juniors will avidly support the prom after Anderson & Collins show that classic driver ed. film.)

Juniors really aren't apathetic compared to the seniors. More juniors can be seen at football games, club meetings, class functions, and at Mr. Feener's door than the sophomore and senior class combined. The now ghostly writers of "Filth" would have a field day with their junior jerk column if they had today's juniors to choose from. Mr. Sweeney remains the dedicated and popular advisor who has done his utmost for the class.

The unglorious title of "sophomore" is awarded to you upon the entrance of your second year in high school. The mere definition of the word (stemming from the two Greek words "sophos" and "moros," intermingled mean "wise fool.") implies that your maturity, insight, and intellect remain questionable. Most sophomores believe that after enduring a year's disparagements from the pompous, lofty, echelons of elder students, they are capable and mature individuals. Their belief can be refuted when a typical sophomore is presented with the brain-boggling contract system employed by many teachers to perplex the sophomore's life. Sophomores can do superb work with their contracts, although it can be disheartening when that seventeen page paper on bioluminescence is submitted to an English teacher, and your bio class is baffled by your oral report on A Separate Peace.

Efforts are also made by sophomores to display wit and intellect before various teachers. But writing poetry that degrades blonde wigs for Miss Austin, challenging Mr. Wirchansky to a sky-scraping contest, and informing Mr. Murphy that math is irrelevant, tends to quell any attempts at being astute.

Alas, a sophomore is a luckless soul deserving our pity, but they are very fortunate in one respect. Miss Barbour and Mr. Johnston have been completely dedicated to the best interests of the sophomores.

J.J. FAIR '72

Saturday, October 1, saw the J.J. gym overflowing with kids, parents, balloons, cotton candy and smiles. There were games to challenge one's skills, and food enough to take on the heartiest appetite. Everyone went home happy—the workers, the patrons and, of course, Sue Reichert, who staged the whole affair.

Advisor: Mr. Noble

Despite enormous student apathy, Mr. Noble, Ed Parmalee, and their band of loyal followers organized a program of lectures, seminars, films and demonstrations, the likes of which John Jay had not seen before. The most popular included: Buster Crabbe, "The Ghost Hunters", The American Mime Theater, a rap session with two ex-convicts and a prison psychiatrist, and a Karate demonstration.

The Spanish Club continues to be one of the most active organizations on campus, due in part to the dedication and enthusiasm of its advisor, Mrs. Angulo. This year, a group of authentic Spanish folksingers from the University of Madrid, called "La Tuna", made their second appearance at John Jay. The club held its annual dinner, always a big success, and they travelled to New York restaurants and museums. In addition to all this, the club rewards a $500 scholarship to the senior who has shown the greatest interest in Spanish, and who plans to continue the study of Spanish in college.

STATESMAN

Mr. Curry, Advisor; John Dunn, Right-Hand Man.

Renee R. Phillips, Layout and Photography Editor.

Gone is the traditional yearbook editor, "king" of the book—and here to replace him is the board of editors, a hand-picked group of the finest minds in the senior class. Truly an elite group, the editors express the hope that their book will be the finest yet produced by John Jay. At the helm, of course (or more usually down in the galley), is Mr. Richard Curry, a man of infinite patience and tall tales, guiding this raft of lost souls through the darkest storms.

At this time the staff of STATESMAN '73 would like to acknowledge the help and generosity of Mrs. Thelma Goldberg, Business Advisor; Mr. John Schryber, for his help with the Fair; Mr. Freeman and Jackie Ruger, for an excellent Variety Show, and, of course, Mr. Curry, who always gave a gentle push when necessary.

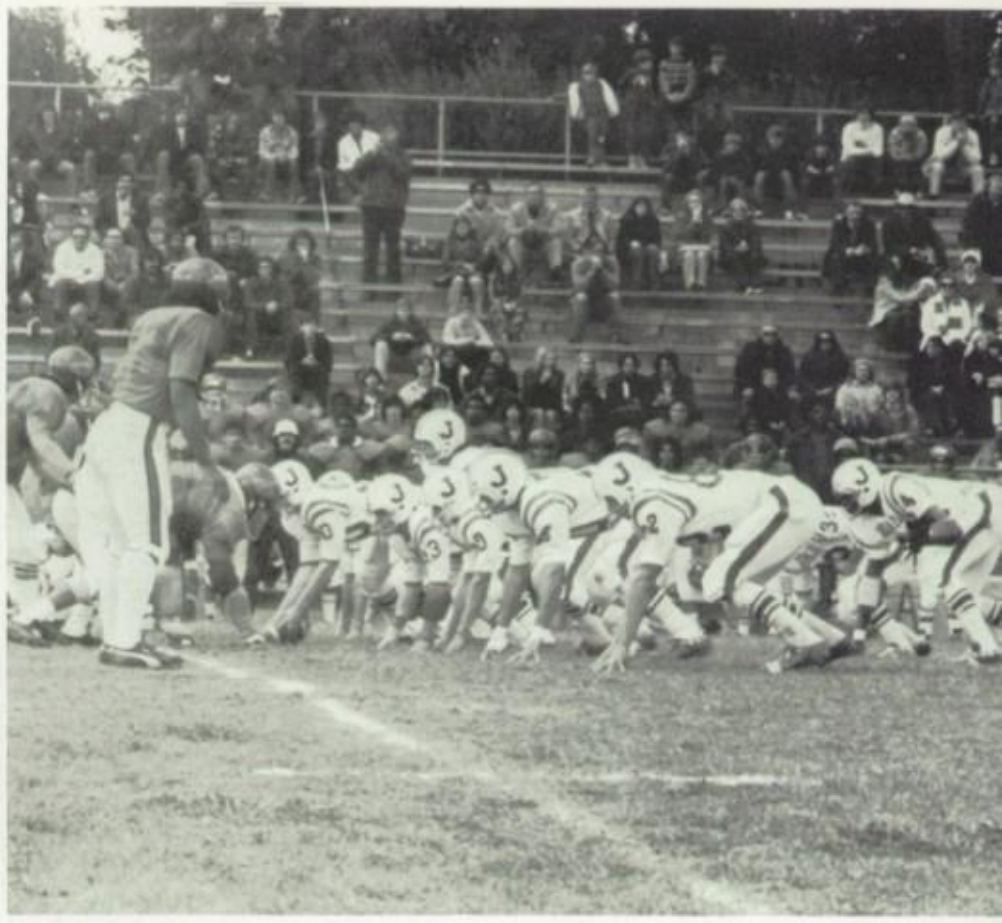
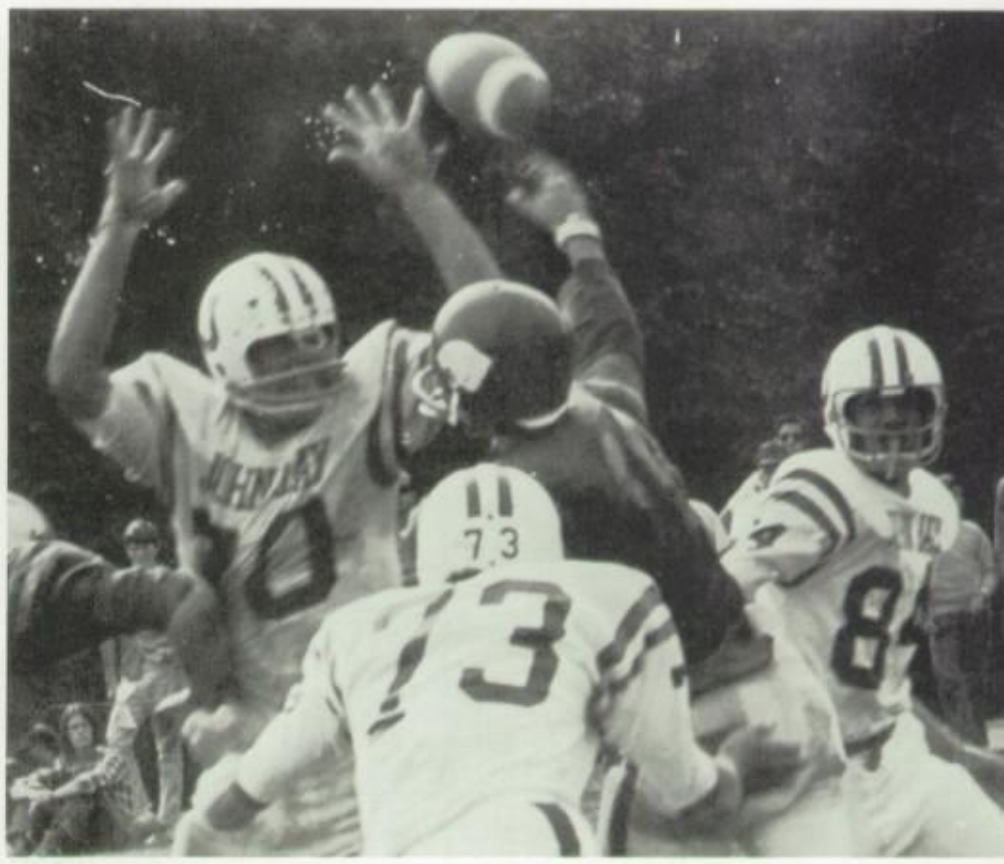
FOOTBALL

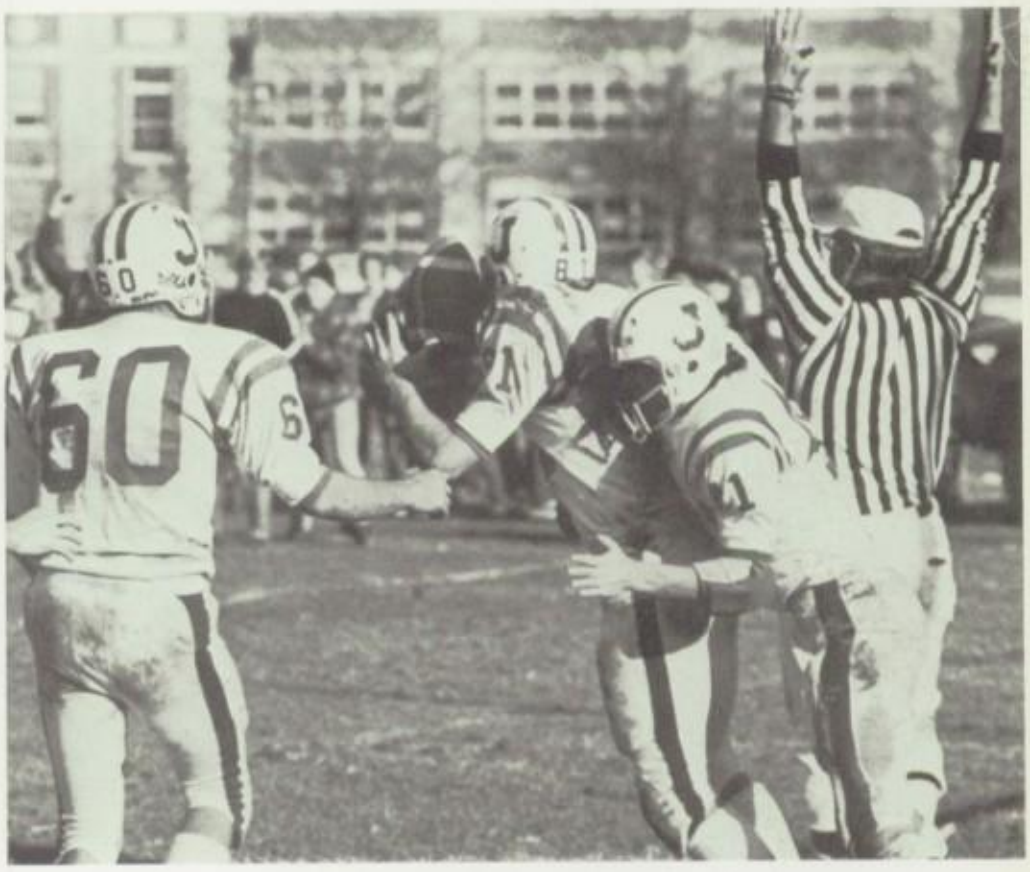
Although some may look at the 1972 Varsity Football Team as the team whose winning streak was broken in the last game, many see one of the most triumphant and mature teams John Jay has ever had. Not only in statistics, but in attitude as well. For the third consecutive year, they captured the UW-PL title, while placing three players, Tony Galante, Allen Taylor, and Bruce Taylor, on the All-County team. In the regular season, the defense allowed a record of only 12 points and the team scored a record of 239 points in eight games. Our team is ranked number two among the small schools in New York State.

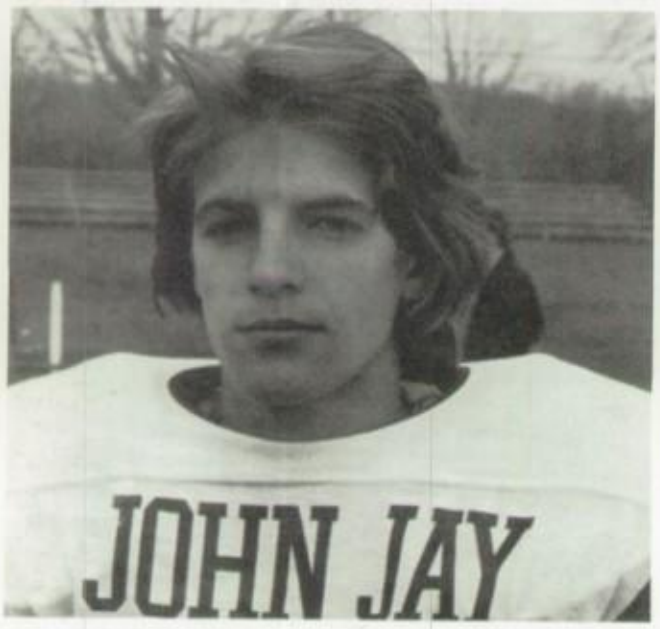
There is much to be said about the fine coaching of Ron Lyons, Lou Pesce, and Mike Repp, who brought a group of boys each year to the top, and who gave their team the spirit of competition and good sportsmanship. They showed them how to maturely accept victory as well as defeat.

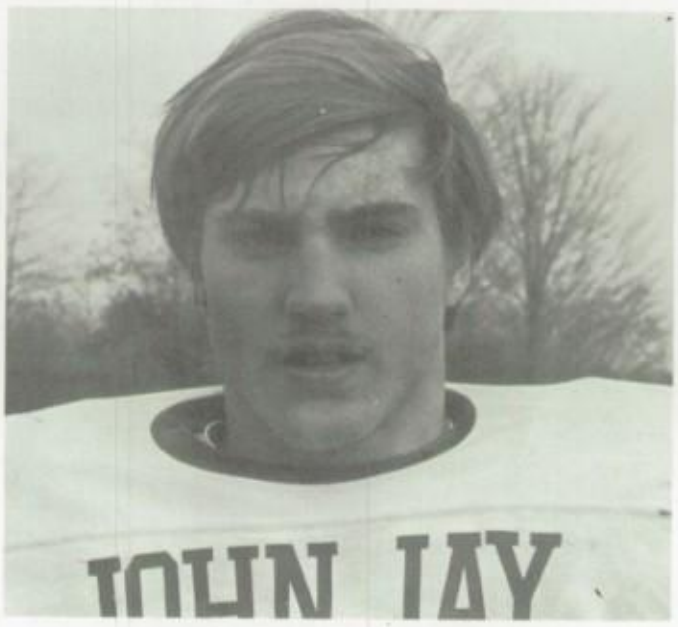




JOHN JAY







Many people don't realize that it isn't easy each year to come back with a record winning streak behind you, and to continue it. There's pressure on each player; every game must be won to keep the victory string going. This year's team continued the John Jay tradition, and must be commended for their fine attitude towards winning and losing.

POWDER PUFF

In the annual battle of the girls, it seems that fate always lets a class win once. This year's seniors, with experience behind them after last year's loss, stormed ahead to a 14-12 victory. The senior team was led to their victory by quarterback Sharon Greenwood. The juniors were never able to tie it up, and even though they lost, it was the juniors who dominated play throughout the second half. Players and spectators who enjoyed the game should give credit to refs John Wirchansky and Bernie Sweeney for keeping a crucial match under control.

May I go to the Girl's room NOW?

You take it, I don't want it.

Wait, I lost my contact.

Soccer '72, with Coach Doug Bartel at the helm for the second year, finished second in the league with an 8 win and 2 loss mark. Th Indians advanced to the Section I games and finished the year with 8 wins and 6 losses. All-League Captains Harry Montevideo an Rick Davison led a potent league offense which included All-League Marcus Gmelin's high scoring, and an excellent job by Bill McClai (honorable mention). The defense was led by fullbacks Andy Heindl (All-League), Frank Waller, John Baxter and goalie Neal Blum. Coac Bartel can look forward to a bright season to come, with 15 returning members and a hopeful Junior Varsity team on the way up.

GIRL'S VOLLEYBALL

Advisor Miss Jones and Captain Sally Davis

Under the coaching of Miss Jones, both the Varsity nd J.V. Girl's volleyball teams were undefeated in their egular season. Sherry Jack and Captain Sally Davis vere then voted to the all-league team. The varsity quad then went on to the semi-finals of the sectionals, ut lost to Poughkeepsie in a close match. With two nembers of the varsity team returning in September, lus an undefeated J.V. team on the way up, Miss ones can look forward to another successful year.

Captain: Dave Raneri, Coach: Mr. Bagnato

The cross country team had an outstanding season with the consistent running of Dave Raneri, John Battin, Bill Nugent, Matt Zema, and the other members of the varsity squad. One of the highlights of the 5-4-1 season was the constant breaking of the thirteen minute barrier on our own home course. Also the frosh had a terrific season capturing the league championship with the leadership of Jed Potter. This was probably the best performance the cross country team has achieved in a long time, thanks to the efficient coaching of Mr. Bagnato.

BASKETBALL

The debut of a new coach and the willingness to win led our Indians to a fine winning season this year. After two early losses, the team, led by all-league captain Kevin Conway, pulled together and finished third in the league. It was a year of team effort and defense which enabled John Jay to enter the Section I tournament. Leading the Indian offense was Kevin Conway, Cliff Fuhst, captain Pete Brown, Allen Taylor and Don Flood. Players and ever present spectators can thank Coach Repp for a fine season.

BASKETBALL

Under the capable leadership of Miss Jones, this year's girl's basketball team had a good season. Although seven seniors will be leaving, Miss Jones can look forward to another good season next year.

BOYS' GYMNASTICS

Ask a member of the John Jay boy's gymnastics team what he likes best about gymnastics, and he'd probably reply: "Watching the girl's gymnastics team." Seriously, this year's team, though not as strong as they have been in the past, made a fine showing, with seniors Mike Wetzel and Rick Davin among the best in the division. The team is young and should be quite strong in the near future, especially with the help of three fine coaches—Dave Cutler, Jack Gullen and, old J.J. pro, George Enquist.

Row 1: E. Persau, N. Keever, K. Fine, B. Thoma, J. Duffy. Row 2: Coach Cutler, R. Davin, J. Potter, M. Ferrara, C. Krause, G. Enquist. Row 3: Coach Gullen, J. Bayer, M. Merrill, B. Quentin, D. Williams, M. Wetzel.

Coach Gullen, Captain Rick Davin, Coach Cutler

GIRLS' GYMNASTICS

If one walks into the junior high gym one typical winter afternoon, you find a number of girls in purple leotards, squeezed in among wrestlers, weight lifters, basketball players, junior high athletes and the boy's gymnastics team. Ask one of the girls what's going on and she replies, "This is gymnastics." And what, exactly, is gymnastics? ...broken nails...ripped hands...butterflies in your stomach...the dreaded weigh-in days...a male chauvinist coach sporting new sideburns...a valentine box of candy from the boy's team...And, of course, the feeling of hitting your routine perfectly in a meet. That's what girl's gymnastics at J. J. is all about.

Row 1: B. Stanley, E. Pezzello, A. Loschaivo, C. Irwin, K. Deltufo. Row 2: M. Lewis, K. Attridge, M. Maryniak, L. Farrell, I. Tator, D. Infanti. Row 3: S. Allphin, L. Gossett, N. Treyz, C. Hagan, J. France, C. Spierling, K. Rose, C. Forrest. Row 4: P. Spierling.

GIRL'S FIELD HOCKEY

Varsity Captains Sally Davis and Sharon Greenwood; Advisor Miss Jones.

J.V. Captains Diane Scott and Beth Otten; Advisor Miss Jones.

J.V. Row 1: B. Segmuller, M. Kish, K. Wildey, J. France, L. Farrell, S. Greimel, A. Gabarro, K. Macnamee, L. Davis, D. James. Row 2: D. Enfonte, C. Keats, M. Vaughan, S. LaGuerre, M. Ruane, M. Mays, P. Delaney, E. Fitzgerald, D. Ruscher, B. Otten, L. Zirpolo, B. Gunder. Absent: D. Scott.

This year's girl's Varsity Field Hockey team was undefeated in regular season and was the UW-PD champ, #1 of 12 area towns. They went on to the N.Y.S. Sectionals but lost to Valhalla. The Junior Varsity also had a fine season as many underclassman learned hockey stick control and the general strategy of the game. Two Varsity players, Sharon Greenwood and Sherry Jack, were All-League picks and Sharon made the Stuyvesant Association Team, while Sherry and Suzy Von Oehsen made Honorable Mention. Miss Jones gave her girls a great sense of skill, competition, and sportsmanship as is evidenced in their record. Too often Miss Jones's coaching, enthusiastic spirit and winning teams go unnoticed, but hopefully next year's teams will receive even more school support as defending League champs.

"I'm going to get you."

"Suzy, it's my turn to dribble down.

"Four!"

"You club me once more and I'll..."

Good times
come + go
This year went pretty fast
See ya next yr.
Love

Dear Love,
I never knew exactly what true happiness was until I met you. It's been really great knowing
you. I hope when I'm you'll never forget me
I LOVE YOU
FOREVER
